

Townsend Denies Third Party Threat as Result Of $200 Pension Plan

Originator Says Neither Will His Group Join Any State Movement to Provide Presidential Primary Conflicts.

"FAVORITE SON"

Borah Claims To Have Eliminated "Favorite Son" System of Picking Delegates to Convention.

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP).—One threat of a third-party movement faded today with the announcement of Dr. F. E. Townsend that his old age pension organization would not back such a proposal.

Townsend declared that neither would his group join any state movement which would mean a conflict in presidential primaries of either party.

The co-founder of the $200-a-month pension plan referred to a proposal to enter a delegation in the California primary nominally pledged to Representative McGroarty (D-Calif.) for president. Townsend declared "such a program could only bring defeat and discredit to the Townsend movement."

McGroarty, author of a measure to pay up to $200 a month pensions, declared "the plan is to send a delegation to the Democratic national convention platform endorsing the Townsend old age pension movement."

The question to be answered was: Will the Townsends in California, or elsewhere, go ahead with any primary plans in opposition to the express wishes of the man in the title role?

"Favorite Son" Question. The "favorite son" question also came into Republican discussion. Senator Borah, first to enter a presidential primary, claimed to have eliminated the favorite son system of picking delegates to the national convention. Senator Gibson (R-Vt.), however, charged that party members in some sections were "proceeding in the same old repudiated way" by choosing "stand-patters" for convention delegates.

Borah and his followers have argued that the practice of picking untrained delegates or delegates who will vote for a "favorite son" at the start of the convention battle enables the "Old Guard" to swing votes to a candidate of its own choice later.

"It would seem from developments," Borah said today, "that the fraud of favorite sons has been pretty well eliminated from the campaign."

Coincidentally, Senator Nye (R-ND) predicted that his state's delegation would be instructed to vote for Borah.

Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas, widely discussed as a Republican presidential possibility, was acquired yesterday "as the greatest governor Kansas ever had and our next president" by the Second Congressional District Republican convention in Kansas. The first Landon pledged delegates to the national convention were picked at Osawatomie.

Postmaster General James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic national committee, will invade Kansas tomorrow, presumably to open a drive to keep Kansas in the Roosevelt column.

Criticism of the New Deal came from Gifford Pinchot, former governor of Pennsylvania.

California furnished the material for another major development. Democrats of the end poverty in California organization planned their own state of delegates for the national party convention. They were angered by word that Hamilton Cotton, who opposed the gubernatorial candidacy of E. P. Upton Sinclair in 1934, would be named by President Roosevelt today among his convention delegate selections.

Johnson Has Doubt He Will 'Make' Throw

Walter Johnson

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP).—The elements appeared today to be conspiring to thwart Walter Johnson's attempt to throw a silver dollar across the Rappahannock river at Fredericksburg, Va., tomorrow in emulation of George Washington's legendary feat.

A broad smile brightened Representative Sol Bloom's face as he heard that a thaw is imminent up the river and that the stream may be much broader tomorrow than the 372 feet it measured today.

Strict believers in all George Washington's yarns have showered denunciations on the New York representative because he says the father of his country never tossed the dollar. He says the river measured 1,300 or 1,400 feet across in those days.

Even if the flood does not occur, Johnson, former speedball king of baseball, is doubtful whether he can make the throw.

Snow and ice are piled high along the banks and the footing is tough. However, the Fredericksburg Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the experiment, is trying to overcome that hazard.

"We are building a sort of platform for Johnson," said Ben F. Pitts, president of the chamber.

"Illegal!" shouted Bloom. "First they fail to observe the original distance, now they're helping Johnson with a wooden platform."

Johnson's attempt to throw a dollar across the Rappahannock has received a lot of the old gags.

Going the rounds are: "A dollar went further in George Washington's day."

"Washington might not have thrown a dollar across the river, but he hurled a sovereign across the sea."

"Fredericksburg was settled by the Scots searching for that dollar."

Piece of Eight. New York, Feb. 21 (AP).—If George Washington actually did sling a dollar across the Rappahannock river, it was a Spanish dollar—a "Piece of Eight."

That was the dollar of the colonists at the time. Arraf Zerbe, numismatist of the Chase National Bank, said today. The United States government didn't begin to coin silver dollars until 1794, five years before Washington's death. The two coins are virtually the same size and weight.

"Still a Mystery." Georgetown, British Guiana, Feb. 21 (AP).—Art Williams, American aviator seeking Paul Redfern in the Brazilian jungle, insisted today that whatever befell Redfern in his 1927 flight from Brunswick, Ga., to Rio de Janeiro, was still a mystery. Williams, the man who taught Redfern to fly, said of his recent aerial expedition into the interior, where Redfern is believed by some to have crashed and still to be alive: "We made a new contact with ten new Indian villages and collected a great deal of information, and the most that was established is that Redfern did not land in that area."

Adopted Redfern Resolution. Columbia, S. C., Feb. 21 (AP).—The South Carolina House of Representatives adopted a resolution today memorializing Congress to finance an expedition to rescue Paul Redfern, long missing aviator reported held captive by Indians in western Guiana. Dr. Frederick Redfern, father of the flyer who disappeared on a projected Georgia-Brazil flight in 1927, is a professor in Benedict College here.

Caleb J. Milne, 4th, Woodstock youth whose December kidnap-hoax catapulted him into the national spotlight and eventually into the Federal House of Detention in New York city, received about 11:45 a. m. today from Charles Griffith, well known criminal attorney, notification of his release from federal prosecution. Mr. Griffith, Milne's counsel, advised the youth that formal papers will be filed with the U. S. Attorney's office to make the acquittal complete.

A Federal grand jury which for almost two weeks had been hearing evidence against Milne, grandson of Caleb Jones Milne Jr., retired Philadelphia textile manufacturer, refused yesterday afternoon to punish him for his December self-kidnaping hoax. The government had sought to indict him on charges of trying to extort $20,000 ransom from his grandfather through the mails.

The grandfather, a reluctant witness, and twenty or thirty other persons had been called before the grand jury by George R. Pfann, Assistant United States Attorney, while the youth was free in $7,500 bond. The jury refused to indict and Lamar Hardy, United States Attorney, announced that the bond would be released and that Milne would go scot-free. The government, Mr. Hardy said, was satisfied that Milne could not be punished for the well planned hoax.

Milne disappeared on December 14 from an apartment at 159 East Thirty-seventh Street, which he shared with his younger brother, Frederic. For five days New York police and agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation searched relentlessly for clues. One of the few uncovered was the demand for ransom sent to the grandfather. On December 19 Milne was found bound and gagged in a ditch near Doylestown, Pa. He showed signs of having been treated roughly. On his arm there were pricks which appeared to be from hypodermic needles.

Confesses Hoax. On December 28, in New York city, after "recovering" at the Milne home in Woodstock, under the constant supervision of Federal agents Milne admitted to J. Edgar Hoover that he had staged the "kidnaping" to get publicity for a career either on the stage or in journalism. He admitted having prepared the ransom notes and said he had picked his own arm to make it appear that he had been drugged. He denied he had intended to take his grandfather's $20,000 and told of his whereabouts during the days he was supposed to have been detained by kidnapers. His statement told how he had trusted himself up and then awaited rescue.

Milne Relieved. A Freeman reporter was present at the Milne residence today when the advice came from New York and Milne, while feeling a vast relief at the dismissal, said today: "I still want to be an actor. I'm sorry, however, that I'll never have the chance to tell my side of the story that I would have had. If there had been a trial, I'm still determined to go on the stage, whether under an assumed name or my own, because it's the only thing I can do well." Milne expressed, also, regret that "unfair" things had appeared in the papers concerning himself and his family, saying, "While in desperation I planned the 'kidnaping,' it must be known that it was the fault of a state of starvation, caused by the fact that I had lived on one meal a day for a long period, also by the fact that I was refused WPA assistance, because I was not on relief. I could not get on relief, because my brother, Frederic, was employed by Morgan & Co. The thing relief authorities did not consider was that two could not live on Frederic's salary."

No Accomplish. Milne also today refused to admit that there had been an accomplice. When asked how he could have bound himself as he did when found by a passerby in a ditch near Doylestown, Pa., Milne merely said, "It's easy. Try it some time." He also expressed surprise that more of the clothing which he had discarded as he trudged along the road from 8:30 until 9:30 had not been found. He explained that he was wearing two sets of clothing and went through a process of elimination until he came to those in which he had planned to be found.

Milne said that in the House of Detention he was in company with Noel Scarfa, alleged counterfeiters, and Dapper Don Collins. He said that while at the Federal jail he received a telegram from a prominent New York producer to stage "Milne's play," one which he had never written. "The Perfect Crime," he has had proposals of marriage, letters of cheer, letters offering sound money.

He outlined in detail how he had struggled alone in New York for three years, taking all sorts of odd jobs.

Marital Law Declared Alcohol Beverage Law In Spain, After Two Is Target For Legislative Rioters Shot To Death Marksmen This Session

Total of Election Dead Is Raised To 27 as Increased Rioting by the Celebrating Leftists Spreads Throughout Country.

SOVIET STATE

In Southwestern Province of Huelva Communists Proclaim A Soviet State, Raise Red Flag.

By ALEXANDER H. UHL (Copyright, 1936, by Associated Press) Madrid, Feb. 21.—Civil guards killed 20 Extremist rioters and wounded 10 more at Bollullos Del Condado, Huelva Province, today, raising the total of election dead to 27 persons.

The new Leftist government of Manuel Azana was forced to declare martial law in many communities as a result of increased rioting by the celebrating Leftists.

Civil guards and troops were active everywhere attempting to restore order, while hundreds of political prisoners were released from jails.

Red flags were raised by Communists in several isolated villages. The killings at Bollullos Del Condado were precipitated by a crowd of Extremists who attacked Conservatives.

The civil guards, Spain's semi-military constabulary, tried to break up the fight but, failing, shot a volley into the Extremist ranks.

One of the men wounded in last night's riot in Barcelona died today. One hundred guards, armed with machine guns, were dispatched to the town of Ecija, in the far southwestern province of Huelva, where Communists proclaimed a Soviet state and raised their red flag.

Police clashed with another group of demonstrators displaying the Red flag in Hoyo Pineros, Avila Province. One woman was killed.

The government decided to ask President Niceto Alcala Zamora's signature to a decree authorizing the cabinet to submit to the permanent parliamentary committee the question of an immediate amnesty for all political prisoners.

The entire nation was under a state of alarm, putting the police forces on guard; martial law extended to Alicante, Cordoba, Murcia, Valencia and Zaragoza provinces and a declaration of general martial law appeared imminent.

Informed sources said the decree of general amnesty for all political prisoners—many of them held since the Socialist revolution of October, 1934, probably would be drafted tomorrow and signed Saturday, to become effective on publication in the official gazette Monday.

Prison cells were emptying already under a government order granting provisional liberty to from 10,000 to 20,000 persons against whom charges had not yet been preferred, and those convicted but not yet sentenced.

The Leftist demonstrations arose anew yesterday, after previous election disorders and prison rioting caused 13 deaths. Eight more were known dead and 45 reported wounded in the fresh outbreak.

Fresh reports from Palma Del Rio, in the southern Cordoba Province, said Extremists burned furniture in the popular Accion headquarters and raided a church, where they burned images. The rioters proceeded then to a convent and forced the Nuns to take refuge in private houses.

Nearly Two Score Bills Ranging From Repeal of the Statute to Minor Amendments Have Been Introduced This Year.

HALFWAY MARK

Leaders Emphasize Need of Steering Committee To Expedite Action in Legislature.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP).—New York state's alcoholic beverage control law is a target for legislative marksmen this year.

To date nearly two score bills, ranging in purpose from repeal of the statute to minor amendments, have been introduced in Senate and Assembly. All have been referred to committees.

Many of the new bills are intended to let down some of the bars around the traffic in alcoholic beverages. Some are intended to tighten the law still further.

Assemblyman Frank X. Bernhard, Buffalo Republican, has introduced a bill to repeal the two-year-old alcoholic beverage control law and substitute for it an alcoholic beverage tax law patterned after the state excise law that was in effect in prohibition days. A similar measure was submitted in 1934.

Another Bernhard bill would extend to stores where liquor is sold for on-premises consumption permission to sell beer and wine in bottles for consumption off the premises.

Senator Thomas J. Burchill, Manhattan Democrat, is the author of a bill to shorten the distance between licensed package goods stores on the same street. The existing law provides that such stores shall not be within 1,500 feet of each other in New York city or within 700 feet in other municipalities. Senator Burchill's bill would reduce these distances to 750 feet in the greater city and 350 feet elsewhere.

A proposal to include confectionery stores among the places where beer may be sold has been introduced by Senator Julius S. Berg, Bronx Democrat.

Senator A. Spencer Feld, Manhattan Democrat, is sponsor of a bill to take from the Alcoholic beverage control board the discretionary power to limit the number of retail licenses, and provide that no application for a license shall be denied to any citizen of the state over 21 years of age who has never been convicted of crime within the United States jurisdiction and who tenders the required fee with his application.

Senator Philip M. Kleinfeld, Brooklyn Democrat, would fix the closing hours on Sundays from 3 a. m. to 1 p. m. and other days from 3 a. m. to 8 a. m., except in New York city where sales would be prohibited between 4 and 8 a. m.

Senator Joe R. Hanley, Wyoming county, and Assemblyman Fred S. Hollowell, Yates county, both Republicans, are the sponsors of a local option bill. Under existing statutes, a local option election may be held only upon petition of 25 percent of the voters in the community. The Hanley-Hollowell bill seeks to reduce this percentage to 15.

Legislative leaders emphasized today the need of a steering committee to expedite action in the New York Legislature as the 1936 session reached the halfway mark with its major problems still unsolved.

Engulfed in partisan quarrels, the lawmakers are still struggling with crime, taxes, governmental expenses, milk control and unemployment relief after eight weeks which have produced little more than tentative issues for the approaching gubernatorial and presidential campaigns.

The committee would be composed of leaders of both Senate and Assembly, with possibly several others, to sit in judgment on the hundreds of recommendations now before the lawmakers. In this way, it is pointed out, agreement could be reached on the more controversial subjects, and they could be brought out to the floor for debate and quick action.

House Writes A Strong Consumer-Protection Amendment In Farm Bill

Cannon Makes 8 Changes In Third "Confession"

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP).—Edward A. Cannon, 27, debonair playboy on trial for his life in the New Year's death of Hilda Price, 19-year-old waitress, underwent a grueling cross examination in supreme court today as District Attorney John R. Schwartz grilled him about a third and final statement he had made to authorities.

He flatly denied the testimony of two city patrolmen who earlier in the trial said they had conversed with Cannon and Miss Price earlier New Year's Day. He denied, too, testimony he was entirely sober and under a long examination concluded he had been "half and half."

Swearing the statement was truthful at the start of the session, Cannon during questioning made eight major changes between the people's case and his original story.

He flatly denied the testimony of two city patrolmen who earlier in the trial said they had conversed with Cannon and Miss Price earlier New Year's Day. He denied, too, testimony he was entirely sober and under a long examination concluded he had been "half and half."

French Held for Grand Jury, Charged With Stealing Autos.

Robert French, 35, of 97 North street, Catskill, is in the Ulster county jail, charged with grand larceny, second degree, awaiting the action of the grand jury, probably in March, as the result of two alleged automobile thefts, Thursday night, and the efficient work of the sheriff's office, troopers and Saugerties police.

French was arrested Thursday night at Saugerties by State Trooper Walter Keefe and Patrolman Keeley of the Saugerties police for the theft of Ralph Flinnigan's car at Lake Katrine. Flinnigan lives at 11 Cedar street, Kingston. He had his car parked near the Auchmoody store on route 5-W. French allegedly stole it, after abandoning another he stole in Kingston.

Police Justice Roger Loughran of the town of Ulster held French for the grand jury this morning when he was arraigned by Trooper Keefe. He faces another charge for the theft of the Kingston car and probably will be arraigned before City Judge Bernard A. Culliton tomorrow.

French, who was not strictly sober when arrested, it is said, started his escapade of automobile thievery at 7 o'clock last night and was in jail by 9 o'clock to efficient police work.

Claude Markle, former employee of the sheriff's office, now running a taxi business, parked his car near the baggage building at the West Shore, about 7 o'clock. A railroad worker who had seen him do so met him 10 minutes later and said, "I thought you had gone. Where's your car?"

Markle said he left it parked by the curb. He went to look for it and it was gone. The ex-attendant jailer notified the Kingston police and Lyman Ellsworth, night jailer at the court house. Ellsworth sent an alarm to all of the state troopers stationed in this vicinity.

At 7:30, Charles Auchmoody, owner of the roadside store in Lake Katrine on Route 3-W, phoned the sheriff's office a Chevrolet sedan, checking with Markle's had been abandoned on a snowbank near his place, and that Flinnigan's car had been stolen. Ellsworth sent this information also to the troopers.

Day Jailer Clayton Vredenburg and Deputy Charles McCullough went from the sheriff's office to Lake Katrine with Mr. Markle to get his car. It was damaged to some extent, the fenders being bent also the front axle. The auto was said to have rested on top of the snowbank in a position so secure that one would imagine it had been put there by a crane or derrick.

At 7:45 Trooper Keefe and Patrolman Keeley arrested French in Saugerties with the Flinnigan car. They took him before Police Justice Charles H. Bennett in the village who committed him to the Ulster county jail pending arraignment this morning.

French is said to have a police record. He admitted serving time in Elmira reformatory, getting a suspended sentence from Judge George in Catskill, and also said he had been in trouble for deserting the U. S. Army.

French came here from Poughkeepsie, he said. He had been employed there painting a smoke stack, he told Jailer Ellsworth.

Would Direct the Secretary of Agriculture To Work Toward A Pre-War "Parity" For the Farmer.

THE FINANCES

President Says Tax Bill To Finance Farm Program Would Be Formulated Next Week.

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP).—The House today wrote a strong consumer-protection amendment into the new farm bill and pushed the measure ahead toward passage tonight.

The amendment was proposed by Representative McCormick (D-Mass.). It would direct the secretary of agriculture to work toward a pre-war "parity" income for the farmer without discouraging production to a point below the 1929-29 average domestic consumption.

Accepted by Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) of the agriculture committee, the consumer proviso was along the lines of the Wagner amendment defeated by a wide margin in the senate.

After McCormick had explained the interests of his industrial area in protection of the consumer, Jones told the house the amendment was acceptable since it included the 1903-11 "parity" objective for farm income. This would be attained by seeking to re-establish the ratio of that period between the net income of the farmer and non-farmer.

Before the house met, representatives of several organizations headed by the people's lobby were given a formal "protest" audience by Majority Leader Bankhead of Alabama and Minority Leader Snell of New York.

They complained that the bill, already passed in the senate, was being put through without any hearings. Republicans on the floor have voiced similar complaints.

"I don't see how at this stage of the game, in all candor, there is anything to do," Bankhead told them. "It was an emergency situation requiring speed. The agriculture committee has always been very liberal in holding hearings."

President Roosevelt said today the tax bill to finance the new farm program would be formulated finally after his return next week from his home in Hyde Park, N. Y.

He added that conference with the heads of government spending agencies would continue through April.

Discussions with the officers of the government lending units, Mr. Roosevelt told newsmen, have about been completed.

A billion-dollar cancellation in authorized borrowing has been projected by the President, but he has given no indication of what may be accomplished in the way of curtailing direct expenditures.

Clergy Vote Heavily Against New Deal In Literary Digest Poll

Majority Favoring Administration's Policies Indicated In Only Three Southern States

The clergy are more opposed to the New Deal than the country at large according to the findings of a special Literary Digest poll of the nation's clergy of all denominations which has been conducted since the recent 10,000,000-ballot referendum of the magazine on the Administration's policies.

A total of 21,606 clergy returned ballots of which 70.22 per cent were "no" and 29.78 per cent "yes" in answer to the question "Do you now approve the acts and policies of the Roosevelt 'New Deal' to date?"

The final returns of The Literary Digest main poll to the general voters, which was published five weeks ago, showed 62.66 per cent of the participants against the New Deal.

A poll on the same subject conducted among the clergy in the early summer of 1934 indicated that 53 per cent of the clergy were in favor of the Administration's policies then.

Only in three states, Alabama, Mississippi and South Carolina, are the clergy shown voting in favor of the New Deal in the current tabulation, which is published in this week's issue of The Literary Digest.

These three states evidence approximately 3 to 2 majorities for Roosevelt's acts and policies.

The clergy of Arkansas, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, North Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and Utah are recorded as disapproving Roosevelt's policies in the present poll while in the recent nationwide poll the general voters in these states were shown supporting the New Deal substantially.

In 45 states the tally of the clergy referendum indicates a majority opposed to the Administration's acts and policies with the vote almost even in Utah.

The anti-Administration majority from clergymen in New England is considerably less than it was in the recent main poll when the northeastern section of the country balloted nearly 4 to 1 against the New Deal.

Maryland and Delaware show the heaviest clergy vote of 4 to 1 against the New Deal.

The clergy in West Virginia, Washington, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Florida indicate approximate majorities of 3 to 1 against the New Deal while those in the other 35 states register less pronounced oppositions.

Of the 21,606 who responded to the poll, 15,172 vote "no" and 6,434 vote "yes," the magazine states in its current issue.

The negative percentage—70.22—is almost 8 per cent higher than that of the main poll. Only 29.78 per cent of the clergymen vote "yes," whereas in the 10,000,000-ballot poll the favorable percentage was 37.66.

Another way of showing the results is to point out that more than seven clergymen out of ten are opposed to New Deal policies today.

In The Literary Digest Poll of 1934, on the same subject, 15,513 clergymen approved the New Deal, while a minority of 11,546 opposed it.

"Analysis of the figures by state shows only Alabama, Mississippi, and South Carolina clergymen giving a majority for New Deal policies in the 10,000,000-ballot poll 12 states are favorable."

"Letters received by The Literary Digest show the conflict of political opinion among the country's churchmen. There is much praise for The Literary Digest for conducting the poll. Also there is criticism, in which The Literary Digest is glad to give expression."

Hoover Leads G.O.P. Campaign But Guards His Personal Plans

Herbert Hoover, a great traveler and talker these days, continues to puzzle politicians by bombarding the "New Deal" while evading mention of his possible Republican presidential candidacy.

Third of a series of six articles discussing possibilities for the Republican presidential nomination.

By KIRKE SIMPSON.

Washington (AP).—Nine years ago Herbert Hoover's approach to a presidential nomination was belittled by President Coolidge's snubbing announcement that he did not "choose" to run again for the presidency.

Today, a few months before the selection of another Republican standard bearer, Mr. Hoover himself is a no less baffling mystery to the rank and file of his party, and to the nation is he or is he not a candidate?

Stand High. Until that question is answered by himself, the bulky figure of the former President must stand first among Republican nomination possibilities.

He still is titular head of his party, and with that goes a traditional right of party spokesmanship.

Behind him, even in that dark electoral hour for the party in 1932, still rallied some fifteen million votes.

His position as the only living former President alone grants him a news priority. His inclusion among Republican nomination possibilities strengthens that priority.

A Planned Attack. Mr. Hoover is campaigning—but for what? He has been perhaps the most ordered, planned attack upon the "New Deal" of all those Republicans yet suggested for nomination.

He has been moving back and forth across the country, stalking on the front pages week by week in a series of appraisals of Roosevelt methods, offering party leadership; but saying nothing of his own ambitions or intentions.

A "new Hoover" is discernible in the markedly changed oratorical and literary style. His speeches come closer to the form of a man-in-the-street appeal than ever before. They are nearer the traditional political campaigning accepted as model than even before. What does this signify?

"Stop Hoover" Allignment.

To many Democrats and some Republicans all this clearly forebodes a Hoover drive for another nomination. To others it indicates just as definitely that he is not a candidate, but intent only on contributing to that revivification of his party to which he pledged himself.

Another factor enters into any survey of Mr. Hoover's place. Against him only of all suggested nominees are raised the voices of some party leaders. There is substance for a "stop Hoover" allignment at Cleveland. To such leaders his 1932 defeat and the circumstances that surrounded it make him the one man who must not be nominated.

Mr. Hoover knows this, yet he preaches on with his campaign. For what? For whom?

Upon the answer to those questions may hinge not only what is to happen at the party national convention in Cleveland in June but also the nation's destiny.

Tomorrow—London.

There are too many pacifists who are in favor of abolishing national defense everywhere except in Russia.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By Associated Press

Stone Ridge Library Receives New Books

Since the first of the year the Stone Ridge Library has received 56 new books, 46 by gift and 10 by purchase.

Most of these are juvenile and include three by Gene Stratton-Porter, "Freckles," "Freckles Comes Home," and "The Harvester"; four Bobbery books by Laura Lee Hope; four by Honard Garis; four by Alice Freeman and four by T. W. Burgess.

Among the books for adults are "If I Have Four Apples" by Josephine Johnson, and the latest book by Richard Byrd, "Discovery."

The Mornel Club of Stone Ridge presented the library with the new book by Alexander Woolcott, "The Woolcott Reader."

The library is indebted to the following for gifts of books: Mrs. LeRoy Styles, Mrs. F. Leiser, Dr. James Cantine, Miss Katharine Hasbrouck and Mrs. Homer Snow of Hillburn, also a check of $10 from Mrs. George Kasmak of New York.

Some of the other books received are "Abraham Lincoln, Boy and Man," by James Morkan; "Plays for our American Holidays," "Trail Driver," by Zane Grey.

The book committee is making an inventory of the books in the library, discarding some and mending others. All of the discarded books and magazines are to be distributed among the more rural school districts.

Cats And A Sinking Ship

Norfolk, Va.—The old saying, "Rats desert a sinking ship," apparently works backward when applied to their natural enemies, cats.

Three cats, pets aboard the sinking Greek steamer Stefanos Costomeli, hid from the crew and remained behind when the vessel was abandoned in the Atlantic.

Raleigh, N. C.—Raymond Ragan, 30, a robber, escaped from the state prison five years ago. Yesterday he knocked at the prison gates and said he wanted to complete his sentence. He was accommodated.

Rubber Ice. Bolcourt, Kas.—David Witcher tells this one:

The ice on the 200-acre lake of the Bolcourt Hunt Club began to stretch Sunday. Since it has gone seven feet above the shoreline in places, uprooting trees and bushes and tearing down fences along the bank. The ice surface remains unbroken.

Problem. Omaha—Robert Bush's truck, heavily loaded with eggs, just cleared the door as he drove into a warehouse to unload. But with the cargo off, the springs and tires were less compressed and the top of the truck became three inches higher than the door.

After some embarrassed contemplation, Bush let the air out of the tires. It worked.

Father Conchlin bare "politicians and office-holders" from positions in his National Union for Social Justice. Hull? He'll be awful short of help.

MODENA

Modena, Feb. 21.—The committee in charge of refreshments at the card and domino party to be conducted by the Modena Armenians at the firehouse, Friday evening, February 21, is as follows: Arthur Coy, Richard Du Bois, John Denton, Arthur Seymour, Herbert Winters and Harold Paltridge.

Miss Maybeth Chambers, student at the New Paltz Normal, was one of the group of young people presenting a play entitled "The Woman Who Understood Men" at a meeting of the Dutch Reformed Church recently.

Mrs. Myrtle Wager is convalescing satisfactorily at the Kingston Hospital, where she underwent an operation Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wygant Courter, Jr. of Highland, visited relatives in this village on Sunday.

William Reynolds was a visitor in New Paltz during the past week.

Augustus Weeks was a visitor in Cottekill, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Wager and son, Lester, Jr., were in Kingston, Wednesday afternoon.

District Deputy Frank Miller presided at a lodge meeting at Milton, an evening during the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Shultis were in Kingston, Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paltridge were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Peter Barclay at Ardonia, recently.

Vernard and Edmund Wager of Plattekill were in this village, Tuesday.

Mrs. Ira Hyatt of Ardonia visited Mrs. Louis Hyatt and son Harold last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Brown and family were out-of-town visitors Sunday.

Mrs. Burton Ward and Mrs. Nelson Hedges attended a meeting of the Missionary Society, held in the parsonage of the New Hurley Reformed Church, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. J. Van Wyck was a leader. The March meeting of the society will be held at Mrs. Elwood Powell's home.

The Rev. Andrew M. Shea, D. D., pastor of the Modena Methodist Church, will speak on "Evangelism for Today" at a meeting of the Wallkill Valley Ministerial Association, to be held in the Methodist Church at Montgomery, Monday afternoon, February 24.

American Money Fishers Caught. Przemyśl, Poland (AP).—Police entered the printing shop of Michael Gorzko just as he and his partners were admiring an American dollar bill, fresh from the press. The police agreed it was a neat piece of work but arrested the artists.

Brotherhood Day At Clinton Avenue

Clinton Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church will have two important services this Sunday in celebration of Brotherhood Day. Brotherhood Day is sponsored by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, and is calculated to foster better religious and cultural relations between the groups involved.

At the morning service at 11 o'clock, Rabbi Herbert I. Bloom, of Temple Emanuel will be the guest preacher. He will speak on the subject: "Our Common American Job."

Another aspect of Brotherhood involves the problem of solving our social and economic difficulties. Toyohiko Kagawa, the great Japanese Christian and labor leader, who is now touring the United States, feels that he has the solution in the "Cooperative Movement." Unfortunately we were unable to bring him to Kingston.

We have been fortunate, however, in securing the services of Bertram B. Fowler, of the Eastern States Cooperative League, who will speak at the evening service. He is considered the leading journalist of the Cooperative Movement, his articles appearing in the Forum, the Christian Science Monitor and other periodicals. His latest article may be found in the current issue of Colliers. After Mr. Fowler speaks at Clinton Avenue Church he will go to the Y. M. C. A. where the Youth Council will have a Forum under his direction.

The general public is welcome at either or both of these Brotherhood services.

KIP RHINELANDER DEAD AT 34

Leonard Kip Rhinelander, scion of a wealthy and socially prominent family, whose court struggles to free himself from his part-negro wife, Alice Jones, created an international sensation, died suddenly of pneumonia at Long Beach, N. Y. He is shown with his wife as they faced each other in court. They were later divorced. (Associated Press Photos)

Justice Bergan At Trial Term Here

Justice Francis Bergan of Albany will make his first appearance at a trial term of supreme court in Ulster county when he will open the March trial term here on March 2. Justice Bergan was elected to the supreme court bench last fall for the full term.

The March trial term will probably be a busy one as the December trial term was cut short by the illness of Justice Foster and but little business was transacted at that term.

BACK TO BAR MUFFS

What this country needs, writes a frost-bitten reporter in a Great Lakes city, is a return to men's ear muffs. It is an inspired suggestion.
 A national poll taken before memory of the last few weeks' weather vanishes would probably raise a grand chorus of "Yea, muffs!"

As a matter of fact, these homely accessories have actually reappeared in Chicago and some other middle-western cities. High school boys still go without hats and scorn the old-fashioned caps with flaps turning down over the ears, but they snap on their ear muffs, held together with an elastic under the chin, in the good old-fashioned way of their fathers and grandfathers. And they are just as unashamed about it as they were a few years ago when they revived galoshes to keep their ankles warm. In this case, though, there is no sloshing. The ear muffs fit snugly and stay put. The practice, of course, is terribly Victorian, but that fact doesn't damn it so completely today as it would have done a few years ago. The depression has made us more tolerant and more willing to admit that the world knew something about the art of living before the spacious 1920's. The Victorians at least were comfortable.

OCEAN FARES

The passenger steamship conference in Paris has been almost as difficult and unsatisfactory as the naval conferences in London. For a while a general break-up of the conference seemed inevitable when one English company resigned and a ruthless price war threatened.

That course was avoided by an agreement to abolish "first class" rates and make "cabin class" top rate schedules. This means that the big passenger ships will cut their first class rates while smaller ships will increase their regular prices a little.
 Tourist and third class rates will remain the same. The vessels chiefly affected are the luxury liners like the Normandie of France, the new Queen Mary of England, and the Europa and Bremen. If there is a very good travel season these agreements will probably work for a while, but there will remain danger of a price-cutting race. The truth is that the world is over-built in luxury liners, but no nation will start the return to simpler, less expensive ships for fear it will lose in prestige and publicity while some other country gains.

MEXICAN BIRD TREATY

A comprehensive migratory-bird treaty between the United States and Mexico was signed in Mexico City on February 7. Its text will not be released until the treaty has been ratified, but statements about it indicate that it provides for stricter regulation than the 20-year-old treaty between Canada and the United States.

It limits the hunting period for migratory birds and establishes a definite closed season for wild ducks.
 It provides a system of permits for transportation of migratory birds and game mammals over the border, with the special purpose of preventing American hunters going into Mexico and bringing out large quantities of dead game. It designates carefully which species are game birds and which are not. An international commission will handle its enforcement. Observers and sportsmen alike welcome the new treaty, though for different reasons.
 Such measures can not bring back species which have already vanished from the earth, but they can protect from extinction some others which have been dwindling in numbers in recent years too fast for safety.

GAMBLING WIVES

Residents should be interested to what happened to a group of poker-playing wives in an eastern city recently. They were arrested and brought before a judge. Two of them were bound over to the grand Jury as operators of gambling houses. They had "entertained" in their kitchens and had taken a "cut out of the pot." "This business of playing cards with the grocery money while husbands and children wait for their meals has got to stop," said the judge sternly.

Husbands have been known to squander the grocery money in this and other ways, and some of them have gone to the workhouse for doing so. Fortunately a right to follow that example isn't what most women mean by equal rights.

That Body
of Hours

By James W. Burton, M.D.

(Registered in accordance with the Copyright Act)
 WATER AND HEALTH.

If we could remember that all the little cells of the body are like so many little fish, each fish requiring a pool of water in which to swim, we would realize how important water is to the body.

While most of the water that is lost from the body is carried away
 as urine from the kidneys, a great amount is lost by evaporation from the skin and also in the warm moist air from the lungs when breathing out.

It is estimated that in the average individual doing light work the lungs and skin get rid of 30 to 50 ounces daily of water.

When there is illness with vomiting or diarrhea or both, large amounts of water are lost and therefore every little cell in the body cries out for water.

Dr. F. A. Collier, Ann Arbor, Mich., reminds us in the Nebraska State Medical Journal that the maintaining of a satisfactory water balance in the body can be judged or regulated by establishing a satisfactory amount of water loss by way of the urine from the kidneys. This is due to the fact that the kidney uses or has to get rid of any water that has not been cared for or thrown away by the other organs that get rid of water—skin, lungs, and lower bowel.

Normal kidneys working at their best require about a pint of water to get rid of an average amount of waste material. If extensive damage has occurred in the kidneys, three times as much water is required to get rid of the same amount of waste material.

The thought is that in health the usual amount of liquids taken at meal time with a glass of water at 11 o'clock and 4 o'clock should be all that is necessary for the average individual in good health. It is only when there has been some disease of the kidneys and the damage done means that there is not as much kidney surface to get rid of wastes that more water is really necessary.

A mentioned before, those who are overweight can really do with even less water than the individual of average weight because the extra fat stored in their body is usually loaded with water. This extra water can be used by the body when needed. Drinking less water or other liquids will therefore reduce their weight.

YOUR INCOME TAX

No. 23.

Deduction for Contributions.

Charitable contributions and gifts made by an individual are deductible within limitations provided by the revenue act. The organization to which the gift is made must meet several tests. The corporation, trust, community chest, fund, or foundation must be operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals; and if a substantial part of its activities is carrying on propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation, it fails to pass the tests. No part of the organization's income may inure to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual.

Contributions made to a missionary fund, church building fund, and for the benefit of other activities of the church are deductible. Few cents, assessments, and dues paid to churches are regarded as contributions. Gifts to a corporation or association organized or devoted to the advancement of learning are deductible.

Gifts to an individual are not deductible, but if made to a charitable organization, as defined by the revenue act, may be deducted even though the organization distributes funds among the individual beneficiaries.

Contributions made to the United States, any state or territory or political subdivision thereof, such as a city or town, or the District of Columbia, for exclusively public purposes, are deductible; for example, a gift of real estate to a city to be used perpetually as a public park is deductible. Also allowable are contributions to the special fund for national rehabilitation, to points or organizations of war, veterans and their auxiliaries in the United States and to bona fide, if used for religious, scientific, educational, literary, or charitable purposes.

In general, the deduction is limited to 15 per cent of the net income, exclusive of the contributions.

Remember Veterans Service

Remember, Germany (AP)—Famous of this city are kept apart and apart by a vacuum cleaner. It operates on the same principle as the vacuum cleaner, but it is a stringent moving van. It has 1,000
 the capacity of a household cleaner and moves efficiently at 15 miles an hour.

THE BOOMERANG CLUB
BY AGATHA CRISP

Chapter 32
 PLANS

"I KNOW," said Bobby quietly.
 They were both silent for a little.

"I shall have to leave to-day, of course," said Frankie presently.

"Yes, I suppose you will. How is she—Mrs. Bassington-French, I mean?"

"She's collapsed, poor soul. I haven't seen her since we—we found the body. The shock to her must have been awful."

Bobby nodded.

"You'd better bring the car round about eleven," continued Frankie.
 Bobby did not answer. Frankie looked at him impatiently.

"What's the matter with you, Bobby? You look as though you were miles away."

"Sorry. As a matter of fact—"

"Well, I was just wondering, I suppose—well, I suppose it's all right."

"What do you mean—all right?"
 "I mean it's quite certain that he did commit suicide."

"Oh!" said Frankie. "I see." She thought a minute. "Yes," she said.
 "It was suicide all right."

"You're quite sure?" You see, Frankie, we have Moira's word for it that Nicholson wanted two people out of the way. Well, here's one of them gone."

Frankie thought again, but once more she shook her head.

"It must be suicide," she said. "I was in the garden with Roger when we heard the shot. We both ran straight in through the drawing-room to the hall. The study door was locked on the inside. We went round to the window. That was fastened also and Roger had to smash
 it. It wasn't till then that Nicholson appeared upon the scene very suddenly."

"He'd left a stick behind earlier in the afternoon and had come back for it."

Bobby was frowning with the process of thought.

"Listen, Frankie. Suppose that actually Nicholson shot Bassington-French—"

"Having induced him first to write a suicide letter of farewell?"
 "I should think that would be the easiest thing in the world to fake.
 Any alteration in handwriting would be put down to agitation."

"Yes, that's true. Go on with your theory."

"Nicholson shoots Bassington-
 French, leaves the farewell letter, and slips out, locking the door—to appear again a few minutes later as though he had just arrived."

Frankie shook her head regretfully.

"It's a good idea—but it won't work. To begin with, the key was in Henry Bassington-French's pocket."

"Who found it there?"
 "Well, as a matter of fact, Nicholson did."

"There you are! What's easier for him than to pretend to find it there?"

"I was watching him—remember.
 I'm sure the key was in the pocket."

"That's what one says when one watches a conjurer. You see the rabbit being put into 'his hat. If Nicholson is a high-class criminal a simple little bit of sleight-of-hand like that would be child's play to him."

"WELL, you may be right about that, but honestly, Bobby, the whole thing's impossible. Sylvia Bassington-French was actually in the house when the shot was fired.
 The moment she heard it she ran out into the hall."

"If Nicholson had fired the shot and come out through the study door she would have been bound to see him. Besides, she told us that he actually came up the drive to the front door. She saw him coming as we ran round the house, and went to meet him and brought him round the study window. No, Bobby, I hate to say it, but the man has an alibi."

"On principle, I distrust people who have alibis," said Bobby.

"So do I. But I don't see how you can get round this one."

"No, Sylvia Bassington-French's word ought to be good enough."

"Yes, indeed."

"Well," said Bobby with a sigh, "I suppose we'll have to leave it at that."

Frankie has a fright tomorrow.

KRIFFLEBUSH.

Krifflebrush, Feb. 21.—Sunday School next Sunday at 1:30 p. m.
 Church services at 2:30 p. m., with the Rev. R. Strickings in charge.
 Everyone invited to these services.

All are sorry to hear Mrs. Ida Conner is not very well again. All hope for her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Apply of Fish's Eddy is spending some time with her daughter, Mrs. Leah Conner, who has been very sick.

An Easter supper will be given Tuesday evening, in the J. O. U. A.
 M. Hall. Menu: Oyster stew and crackers, potato salad, boiled beans, jelly, sandwiches, apples, cake and coffee. Other refreshments will be on sale. Proceeds for the church.

The Ladies Aid will meet March 4, with Mrs. Leroy Osterhout. At their monthly meeting. New members and visitors are always welcome.

Sherry Christmas Dutch Ship
 Glasgow, Scotland (AP)—Sherry has replaced champagne in charitable new ship at Dunbar, one of the largest shipyards on the Clyde, because sherry bottles are much thinner and break more easily. A blight in the launching which might have caused among superstitious passengers, then is avoided.

Feathered Friends
In Need of Food, Say County Department

The bitter weather and deep snows
 of the past month or more have resulted in much suffering and starvation among wild life of all kinds throughout the country, and no class of wild life has suffered more severely than have our birds. A very real emergency exists here which has so far been met at least in part by the efforts of kindly individuals and various organizations interested in the preservation of wild life, but which has now reached proportions which can only be successfully handled through organized, intelligent effort. "The Freeman" is glad to publish the following information obtained from the New York State Conservation Department and the Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster County in an effort to bring home to the people of this vicinity
 the importance of helping our birds through their time of need.

In the case of small birds such as frequent the cities and are commonly found in the vicinity of farms, all that is necessary is to clear a small,
 hard surfaced area such as a window sill or a flat stone of all snow and ice, and to scatter on such a surface a few handfuls of dry bread crumbs, cracker crumbs, or any cereal compound that may be available from the house. Do not scatter such crumbs on top of snow or ice and do not put out crumbs
 while they contain enough moisture so that they will freeze. Many of our local bakers have stated that they have quantities of bread crumbs suitable for this purpose that they will gladly give to any applicant who needs them for bird feeding. Put out only quite small quantities of feed at a time and renew as the birds make away with it.
 Do not locate feeding station near heavy shrubbery or thickets where a cat or other predator might conceal itself. The birds will very quickly learn that food is to be obtained in the selected spot and the number and variety of birds so attracted is very likely to astonish the kind hearted person who feeds them.

In the case of larger birds of the fields and forests which are found in this vicinity during the winter months, a different method is necessary. Such birds fall mostly in the so called "game bird" class and consist almost entirely of three varieties
 —partridge or ruffed grouse, pheasant, and quail. Of these the first named or partridge never needs help from man in the form of food, being able to find sufficient to eat under any circumstances from the buds and tender twigs of various trees and shrubs. But the pheasant and quail are not sufficiently abili-able to take care of themselves
 when their usual supply of plant foods is deeply covered with snow and ice, and it is here that help from man is most urgently needed.
 The following feeding instructions for both pheasants and quail are therefore published.

Pheasants—These birds tend to collect in large flocks under bad weather conditions and frequent the vicinity of farm yards and other similar places in the neighborhood of man in the hope of finding food.
 The best general feed is field corn on the cob and the best method of putting it out is to tie two or three ears firmly together by the neck with heavy twine and then fasten the bundle of ears to the branch of a small tree or bush so that it will hang about a foot or eighteen inches above the ground or surrounding snow level.

Hang the corn in sheltered spots near where pheasants are known to congregate and renew as it is eaten
 by the birds. Do not hang ears through the woods or thickets, at random in the hope that the birds,
 will find it; first find the birds,
 which is a simple thing to do under present conditions and then put out the feed in that neighborhood. If corn on the cob is not available, either whole or cracked corn can be used, and to this whole or cracked corn should be added a small quantity of poultry grit which is very necessary to the birds. In using this latter type of feed, clear away the snow to bare ground if possible and make a small feeding shelter of evergreen branches, corn stalks or any other material available in the form of a "lean-to", under this shelter place the feed and scatter small quantities of grain in "trails" leading to the shelter to aid the birds in finding it. Set up feeding shelters open on at least two sides and near but not in heavy brush to give the birds cover and protection from their enemies.

Quail—These birds also tend to collect or "ward up" in large flocks under severe weather conditions but are not so likely to frequent the vicinity of man. These large flocks tend to stay pretty much in one locality and rarely move far, so that feeding is easily carried on once a flock is located. Quail feeding must be carried on by the erection of feeding shelters made as described for pheasant and similarly located. The very best feed obtainable is whole unground buckwheat mixed with poultry grit. If this can not be secured, the next best is coarse poultry scratch feed which will contain the necessary grit as it comes from the dealer. Locally, most of our quail are found in the southern part of Ulster county through scattered coverts are found in the neighborhood of Saugerties, Woodstock, Stone Ridge and other places, and of the two varieties of birds, quail are even more in need of artificial feeding than pheasants.
 In any type of bird feeding, remember two things—1. Small quantities of feed often reward are much better than one large feeding followed by neglect. 2. First find the birds that are in need of feeding, then and not until then, put out the feed.

The Federated Sportsmen's Clubs of Ulster county with a membership of 12 clubs covering the entire county has been hard at work for more than a month cooperating with the New York State Conservation Department under Inspector Fred DeWitt in their campaign to save our bird life. A large num-

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON — The sudden abandonment of plans for immediate enactment of permanent neutrality legislation had more back of it than the reasons announced publicly by administration leaders.

The actual reason, as told by one on the inside of the foreign relations committee of the senate, was that proponents of the legislation were persuaded, after some five weeks of hearings on the measure, that it was too contradictory and paradoxical. In other words, they hadn't thought the matter through at the start.

An illustration of this was afforded on provisions of the bill affording international law, it was stated freely that one of the urgent reasons for passage of the measure was that there was no international law at the present. Yet the proposed bill reserved for the United States all of its prerogatives under international law.

Opposed By Johnson

OPponents of the bill attribute their success in sidetracking permanent neutrality legislation as much as anything else to the fact they were able to prolong the hearings over a period of five weeks.

At the beginning of the present session of congress the sentiment for enactment of such legislation was so strong that only one vote in the senate foreign relations committee was set down as being certain against it. That was Hiram Johnson of California, a consistent opponent of this type of legislation during all of his career in the senate.

Moore's Statement

ONE of the highlights of the senate hearings on the neutrality
 bill was the 10,000 word statement of John Bassett Moore, former world court member, attacking the measure as a "curious blend of homicidal with suicidal mania."

Moore was too ill to appear in person, but upon Senator Johnson's insistence prepared his statement for the record. Johnson laughingly says that when he talked to Moore, the latter was anxious to know just what the sentiment among members of congress was.

The California senator divided his colleagues into three classes:
 1. Those who desire to eliminate President Roosevelt at length on their neutrality views.

2. Those who would make neutrality mandatory and permanent.

3. And those, "like myself who want nothing at all."

TALKS TO PARENTS

Youngest Daughter

By BROOKE PETERS CHURCH

The Smiths had four children—a large family by modern standards.
 The youngsters were spaced about two or three years apart, which seemed an ideal arrangement and allowed the family purse to expand according to the increasing needs of a growing family. It seemed reasonable that four children would keep each other company; no one would be neglected and no one spoiled.

But there came a day when the Smiths woke up to the fact that all was not well with the youngest child.
 She was 13 and the next oldest child was 16. All of a sudden there was only one child in the house. The others were grown up and the 13-year-old was still a child.

Furthermore, having been the youngest all her life, she was spoiled.
 She wanted to do whatever her older sisters did—go to bed late, attend movies in the evenings, have dates.
 At 13 she was in danger of missing much of the fun of childhood and becoming over-sophisticated far too early for her own good.

The youngest child even of a large family is very apt to present this problem. How to meet it is often a hard question for parents to solve.
 If the family can afford it, having school and summer camps offers possible solution. There the child is thrown with girls of her own age and learns to try to keep up with her sisters.

Sometimes it is possible to have another child of her own age to live in the house and keep her company.
 To give up the struggle to hold the child back as many mothers do, is unfair to the child herself and to the older sisters. There will come a time when she will look with regret at the years of childhood which she missed.

Have been in the field with snow shoes and skis locating and feeding both pheasant and quail with feed that has been secured through the funds of the member clubs and through private donation, and also as an emergency measure 1,000 pounds of corn on the cob was supplied by the State Conservation Department. The work has been carried on to the point where several member clubs have exhausted all available funds for securing the necessary feed to carry this work further, and the emergency is greater

Tells How Towns Spend Finances

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 21.—"In the rural sections of New York, about one-third of the property taxes are for town purposes, one-third for county, and one-third for school uses. The state government is supported almost entirely by other types of taxes."

This was the statement to a Farm and Home Week audience at Cornell University by Professor M. F. Catherwood, of the department of agricultural economics.

About three-fourths of the expenditures of rural towns are for highways and welfare, he said. A definite reduction in the proportion of expenditures for highways and a definite increase for welfare purposes has taken place in the past five years.

"As would be expected, total town taxes are influenced by the population of the towns. For the average of the 677 New York towns with a population of less than 2,500, town and special district taxes amounting to $14,568 were levied for each town in 1934. For the 48 towns with a population of more than 10,000, the town and special district taxes averaged $439,850.

"For the average of 379 towns in New York with a population of less than 10,000, 44 per cent of the town taxes were for the general fund and 56 per cent for the highway fund. In the smaller towns, one-third of the tax was for general fund and welfare purposes and two-thirds for highways, while in the largest towns two-thirds were for general fund and welfare purposes and one-third for highways."

French Saving Hits Prison Inmate

La Rochelle, France (AP)—Another victim of government economy is St. Martin-de-Re, the island where thousands of convicts have been built up for the voyage to Devil's Island. Hereafter the prisoners will be taken in barred railway cars direct to the prison ship. Only the aged or infirm will be fed up at St. Martin-de-Re.

SHANDAKEN

Shandaken, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Otto Pochland, who has been visiting friends in Brooklyn for a week, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hummel visited friends in Fleischmanns on Sunday.

The Home Bureau met at the home of Mrs. Ward Hummel on Wednesday. Miss Everette Parsons, county home demonstration leader, presented the first lesson in the project, "Consumer Buying."

The Ladies Aid had an all day quilting at Mrs. F. S. Osterhoudt's Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Bernesser and Otto Pochland were Kingston visitors on Monday.

Mrs. Charles Van Valkenburg, who has been quite ill at her home here, is reported improving.

Stanley Wine of Kingston was a caller here on Tuesday.

Mrs. C. E. Wood is spending a few days this week visiting her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Butler, in Jersey City.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Feb. 21.—The Woodstock Winter Sports Association and the Woodstock Junior Athletic Club have joined forces in sponsoring a basketball game and dance to be held in Firemen's Hall, Saturday, February 22. Music for dancing will be supplied by the Local Club Orchestra. The dance will follow the basketball game.

The weather forecast of snow for Friday and Saturday has considerably cheered those who are looking forward to a week-end of skiing.

Fifty more week-end hotel reservations have been made in Woodstock, making nearly 150 so far.

Victor Schrader arrived in Woodstock Thursday morning, having graduated from the State Rangers School in Wanakena.

Syrian Nationalists Drop Titles

Beirut (AP)—Syrian nationalists have appealed to the public to drop the titles "effendi," "bey," "pasha" and "emir" as "contrary to democratic and Arabic principles and remnants of the Turkish regime." The nationalists call each other "al-said," the Arabic equivalent of "master."

Mecca Pilgrimage Shrinks

Alexandria, Egypt (AP)—Because of the strained political and international situations, it is anticipated that 3,000 Egyptians will make the pilgrimage this year to the holy cities of Mecca and Medina. Last year about 4,000 made the journey.

Now comes George Bernard Shaw, telling us to "chuck the Constitution, bag and baggage." What! Chuck the lawyers, too?

Says Marketing Yet in Infancy

Ithaca, N. Y., Feb. 21.—Although millions of dollars have been spent on terminals and markets of various sorts during the past decade, only a start has been made in providing the 310 larger cities of the United States, and the many country points, with the necessary facilities to market efficiently produce carried by rail and by truck.

Farm and Home Week visitors were thus informed by H. E. Crouch, sponsor assistant in marketing, New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

In determining a state or national policy in regard to the ownership and control of terminal markets, he said, the interests of the people as a whole should be considered. "Experience in building terminals in various sections of the country has shown, with few exceptions, that neither private ownership nor city ownership has given a modern system of markets. Where modern, they have cost far too much."

The need of some sort of government aid and control is necessary, the speaker said. He pointed out that the service of principal markets extends far beyond the cities in which they are located.

The starting point in the development of a statewide marketing program is in the metropolitan areas, and many agencies have worked on the problem. Since nothing was being done in upstate cities, most of the work of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets has been centered in upstate areas, said Mr. Crouch.

ENGLISH DEPUTY M. F. H. FOLLOWS HUNT ON BUS

Ardingier, England (AP)—Colonel Ralph Clarke, deputy master of Old Surrey and Burstow foxhounds, made hunting history by leaving his horse and mounting a passing bus in order to keep up with the pack.

The colonel later jumped from the bus blowing his horn, remounted on Sir Walter Scott's horse and resumed the chase during which hounds had run unchecked for three hours.

The fox showed disapproval of this unorthodox method of pursuit by going to ground.

ADOLF HITLER'S NERVES DUE FOR SOOTHING

Nanking (AP)—A new way of relaxation from the cares and duties of party and state is in store this spring for Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler.

A group of old school Chinese musicians are on their way to Europe to regale the German chancellor with music produced on bamboo flutes, snake skin fiddles and ancient harps.

From Berlin the exponents of Chinese music will go to Vienna to play Oriental airs on the banks of the Blue Danube.

Death and Disease Beaten by Chinese Railroad Builders

Nanking (AP)—The Americans who blazed the trail of the "iron horse" across the plains and mountains of the Wild West faced no greater dangers than those overcome by the men who have just completed the first railroad in China to be surveyed, engineered and financed entirely by Chinese.

None of these modern Chinese railroad pioneers bit the dust with Indian arrows quivering in their breast, but 100 of their number were killed by bandit bullets and 1,000 died of disease before the line was ready from Kiangsu province in the heart of central China to Shanghai on the coast.

So great was the bandit menace in 1934, when road and chainmen set out to survey the right of way across the mountains of Chekiang and Kiangsu provinces, that block houses had to be built.

Hardly had the bandits been cleared from the area than torrential summer rains swept away sections of the road bed and bridge foundations.

The success of the new line has inspired the national ministry of railways to project extensions which will reach the western borders of the country and give China its first transcontinental railroad.

A TOE TOUCH

OIL-HUSHED to a sigh of silence under Buick's style-tapered bonnet, a great-powered valve-in-head engine waits to unleash a torrent of action at your command.

There's thrill in it—and triumph over time and distance. But most important—there's eyewink obedience.

Teamed up with this ablest of driving forces is the newest and most highly perfected system of hydraulic brakes.

The quickest of stops is velvet smooth under their self-energizing action. On the wettest of streets there will be no skidding, no swerves, for they are automatically self-equalizing.

Their action has the smoothness of a closing hand, increasing its grasp steadily to the maximum. Their steel-tensioned grip would halt a heavy truck, but it takes only a touch of a daintily-shod toe to put them into action.

We call them "tip-toe hydraulics," and how apt the name is you'll never know until you drive a Buick and sample for yourself their softness and their velvet command.

The first few times you sit behind a Buick wheel, you may find yourself traveling faster than you think. No car is more buoyantly smooth in its power-flow, more deceptively effortless in its swift flight.

But no car is more surely under control at all times—quicker, smoother, easier in its stopping. If you must drive with an eye on the passing minutes, do so in a Buick which matches engine eagerness with tip-toe braking sureness, offsets highspot go-ability with dependable stop-ability.

$765 in 1935 are the list prices of the new Buicks at Flint, Mich., subject to change without notice. Standard and special accessories grouped on all models at extra cost. All Buick prices include safety glass throughout as standard equipment.

STRAIGHT AS A STRING

Every stop is a straight-line stop with Buick's "tip-toe" hydraulic brakes. All four wheels are always equalized; the only adjustment is an occasional tightening of brake bands wear. For emergency stops and for parking purposes, the hand brake conveniently at the left under the dash, operates the two rear brakes mechanically.

Hattie, the colored maid, was deeply interested in the efforts of one of the neighbors to prepare a pedigree dog for the dog show. After much combing, brushing and other careful grooming, the dog was duly entered in the canine show, and received the first award in his class at the show. Naturally, Hattie was told immediately.

Neighbor—Well, Hattie, my dog got the first prize!
Hattie—No! Ain't dat nice!
What was it?
Neighbor—The blue ribbon.
Hattie (thinking a moment)—How many yards?

When all government, domestic and foreign, in little as in great things, shall be drawn to Washington as the center of all power, it will render powerless the checks provided of one government on another, and will become as venal and oppressive as the government from which it is separated. It will be as in Europe, where every man must be either pike or gudgeon, hammer or anvil. Thomas Jefferson, August 18, 1821.

The Exchange Club held its meeting at Tammy's Hotel on Wednesday evening, February 19.

Mrs. Isabel Hallock of Lloyd spent one day recently with her daughter, Mrs. Adelaide Wilke, in Milton.

The W. C. T. U. held its regular meeting and Frances E. Willard Day program at the home of Mrs. Catherine Schoonmaker on Church street Wednesday. The president, Mrs. Morgan Coutant, opened the meeting with prayer, after which Mrs. Hiram Relyea led the devotion, which included a reading, "Thy Kingdom Come," and a prayer. Mrs. Relyea then led a responsive reading service entitled "The Drink Demon."

The devotion closed with prayers. The president then presided over the business session consisting of roll call which was responded to by sayings of Frances E. Willard.

Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck also honored the birthdays of Abraham Lincoln and George Washington with a reading. Reports were given and the directors of departments, Mrs. Hiram Relyea responded for citizenship.

Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck for temperance publications, Mrs. Etta Camp for peace, and Mrs. Morgan

Coutant for flower missions. The Frances E. Willard memorial offering was received. After the business Mrs. Hiram Relyea took charge of the afternoon program on Frances E. Willard. The article in the Union Signal, "From My Office Window," by the national president, Mrs. Ida B. Wise Smith, was read. This was followed by another reading on the life of Miss Willard by Mrs. Relyea. Mrs. Etta Camp read an article of Dr. Theodore Kyler's first meeting with Miss Willard. Mrs. Relyea then led the memorial quiz from the Union Signal. Mrs. Luther Terwilliger read the poem, "Frances E. Willard," by Annie Durham Mevin. In closing Mrs. Relyea read, "The Flower of Temperance Chivalry," by Susanna E. Fryer, and the very interesting meeting adjourned by all standing with Mrs. Luther Terwilliger leading in the Atonic benediction. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Abel Quick and the Union Signal program will be in charge of Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck. Those present at this meeting were: Mrs. David Corwin, Mrs. Etta Camp, Mrs. Luther Terwilliger, Mrs. Abel Quick, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mrs. Ida Stephens, Mrs. Webb Kniffen, Mrs. Morgan Coutant, Mrs. Hiram Relyea and Mrs. Catherine Schoonmaker.

Events Around The Empire State

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)— Syracuse University, embarked today on a course of instruction for marriage, which 212 seniors who answered a questionnaire voted a desirable subject. A faculty board, headed by Dean William M. Powers of Hendricks Chapel, is giving the course, for which 100 students are registered. University officials said the course, if successful, would be included in the curriculum next year.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—A New York state hospital and a preparatory school were under quarantine for scarlet fever today.

Authorities at Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, reported 108 of the institution's 4,500 patients have the disease.

Cook Academy at Montour Falls was under quarantine as a "precautionary measure" because three students are believed to be suffering from the ailment.

Orchard Park, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Charles Schrader was nursing minor cuts and bruises today after an explosion which literally blew him to safety. Schrader was inside a gasoline station where the blast occurred and was tossed outside. The building was demolished.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—The Empire State Potato Growers Association is seeking a state appropriation of $46,000 to improve the quality of spuds grown in New York state. The money would go to the state college of agriculture at Ithaca for research.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Samuel Belanger, 33, who admitted beating his seven-month-old son to death because the baby's crying annoyed him, prepared today to begin a term of 20 years to life in Clinton Prison. Belanger was sentenced yesterday by County Judge Earl Gallup on his plea of guilty to murder, second degree.

Amateurs Pay Tribute To Hiram P. Maxim

West Hartford, Conn., Feb. 21— Amateur radio stations will today observe a nation-wide silent period as a mark of respect for their late beloved leader, Hiram Percy Maxim.

As the famous scientist and inventor is being interred at Hagerstown, Md. thousands of radio amateurs throughout the country will silence their transmitters in tribute to the man who has been their friend and champion during the past two decades.

Interested in amateur radio since 1907 Maxim was famous in amateur circles as the founder and president of the American Radio Relay League, national amateur body organized in 1914 and of the International Amateur Radio Union, federation of international amateur radio societies organized in 1925. A strong believer in the rights of radio amateurs, he has appeared several times before congressional committees and at international radio conferences, championing the cause of the amateur and protesting against possible unfair legislation.

GOOD GARDENING

12. What To Plant

The city man should not attempt to grow more than 10 or 12 vegetables—at the outside, in the garden. Some important food crops like potatoes, peas and sweet corn take too much space for many small urban plots, but should be included as fine old standbys wherever possible. The essential idea is to keep every foot of space occupied and to have a succession of plantings of some vegetables to assure continuous supply. Many gardeners go in for lettuce and radishes too heavily; it's quite possible to grow them in the rows between plants or hills of other crops. Beginners are advised by the experts not to attempt too much variety.

Ufer and O'Rourke Returned to Clinton State Prison Today

Jailer Clayton Vredenburg and Assistant Jailer Keates Young left this morning for Clinton State Prison at Dannemora with Ufer and Samuel Michael O'Rourke, who were being returned to Clinton Prison to complete serving their terms. Ufer and O'Rourke won a temporary release from the prison when they claimed an error had been made in the court record. They claimed they had pleaded guilty to assault but that they were sentenced to a term of from 10 to 15 years in prison by Supreme Court Justice Staley. On that ground they secured a writ of habeas corpus and appeared before the county judge of Clinton county and sought release. The judge after hearing the case remanded the two young men to the custody of the sheriff of Ulster county pending a hearing before the supreme court for a correction of the record of conviction.

they had pleaded guilty to an assault charge and also to the charge of robbing a jailer at the Ulster county jail after they had assaulted him and rendered him unconscious when he came into the jail to release the prisoners from their cells in the early morning. They took his keys and walked out together with Samuel Klein, a nationally known criminal. Klein was shot and killed in the effort to escape and Ufer and O'Rourke were captured by police officers and deputy sheriffs.

At the time the two were in jail here they were being held on charges of burglary. The grand jury later indicted them on those charges and on their return here from Dannemora on the writ they were arraigned on those charges and to them entered pleas of not guilty.

By agreeing to a correction of sentence the court has agreed not to have the burglary charge pressed when the youths are released from prison at the completion of their present term. These indictments will be held on long as the two have.

The escape from jail was made at the time Ludlow Post was acting as night jailer and it was he who was slugged by the men in their dash for liberty. The two youths had placed a bent spoon in the locking mechanism of their cell door which prevented its closing when the master lever was pulled to close doors at night. They made their way to the cell corridor and gained entrance to the main jail corridor, where they awaited the entrance of Post. When he entered they slugged him and beat him unconscious and then released Klein and walked out of the building. They were captured at Bloomingtown.

FIVE FIREMEN KILLED IN COLLAPSE OF WALL

Searchers are shown looking through the ruins of Odd Fellows hall at Columbus, O., after a wall collapsed killing five firemen fighting a $70,000 blaze that demolished the structure. It took five hours of digging to clear away the debris and recover all the bodies, which were buried under tons of brick. Eleven were injured. (Associated Press Photo)

Federation Women to Take Up New Work

There was a very enthusiastic and busy session of the executive committee of the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs held Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Fred P. Luther. In addition to interesting reports, new work of valuable character was considered and will be undertaken.

Following the final reports of the recent Federation breakfast, Mrs. Luther expressed her thanks for the letters of appreciation received from some of the clubs, relative to the success of the breakfast.

None of the affiliated clubs had any reports other than that of progress in the carrying out of their programs for the year.

Mrs. Reed, chairman of the good government committee, made the suggestion that for the remainder of the season the committee with additional members from the clubs and individual members, confer with the mayor on making a study of the city ordinances, and it was voted to make such a study as soon as the definite plans could be determined. At that time Mrs. Reed will notify the members of the enlarged committee of the time and place of such a special meeting.

Dr. Elizabeth Parsons, chairman of the public health committee, who was unable to be present, sent word that when it was the turn for the public health committee to entertain the Federation, she had a program in view.

Mrs. A. Noble Graham, chairman of the music committee, invited all members of the Federation to the open meeting of the Kingston Music Association to be held at the Fair Street Reformed Church Wednesday evening of next week, beginning at 8:30 o'clock. A very interesting program is being prepared and not only Federation members, but their musical friends are invited to this concert. Mrs. Graham also stated that the music of "The Lord's Prayer," which was sung by a quartet at the recent Federation breakfast had been presented to the Kingston City Library to add to the Lillian Miller Memorial Music Library.

Mrs. Luther added to Mrs. Graham's report the fact that her friend, Madam von Klemmer, chairman of the New York Operatic Club, being greatly interested in this circulating music library, had promised to add to it several selections of operatic music.

The president gave an exceedingly interesting report on the recent New York State Federation Convention held in New York city. Mrs. Almeron Smith, the state president, presided.

Mrs. Kerwin, chairman of the department of welfare and public health strongly urged participation in the new campaign against pneumonia as authorized by the State Department of Health.

Mark McCloskey, New York state director of the National Youth Administration, spoke at length and impressed upon the need of finding duties at home and work at home or toward building up the home for our young people with too much leisure on their hands. He particularly stressed the desirability of boys being kept busy. This speaker also pleaded with the women to vote and to see to it that every woman and their acquaintance registered, even if they had to go with them to register. Having done that he urged the women to follow up what they had started by getting the women to the polls as a patriotic duty.

Mrs. Lawrence Van den Berg, chairman of education, presented Dr. Herman Cooper of the State Department of Education, who gave some astounding figures covering the cost of education in New York state and its distribution.

Mrs. May Lamberton Becker of the New York Herald Tribune recommended a list of books for reading circles which included, "It Can't Happen Here," "Vets of Iron," "Ships Crochet," "Spring Comes on Forever," "Edna," "His Wife," and "The Last Partisan."

Mrs. Sturges Durban gave a list of the best plays, "Jubilee," "Lil-bel," "Dumb Show," "Night of January 15th," "Pride and Prejudice," "First Lady," and "Victoria Regina."

Mrs. Van Ness spoke on "The American Home," stressing the importance of making an art of everyday living and the study of domestic science. She stressed the necessity of changing our old time methods for those better suited for today. She believed that a study along the line of better American homes will not only help the present generation but the youth of tomorrow.

Miss Julia Jaffrey, chairman of the committee on problems of industry, urged the women to make a special study of child labor and allied problems.

Mrs. Frank Schuler begged of the women to make an earnest appeal for peace as they had made to gain woman's suffrage and suggested a "Women's League of Nations".

There were other speakers but those mentioned were outstanding. Owing to the heavy rains and slippery sidewalks the convention was not as well attended as usual, but had one advantage in the smaller numbers in that the meetings were more in the nature of a round table where everyone had a part.

Mrs. Almeron Smith, the president, spoke enthusiastically of her recent trip to Kingston and advised any persons who wanted to have a really good time to visit Kingston.

Mrs. Luther while in New York also attended the Moving Picture Conference and brought back much valuable information and news relative to the screen industry. The outstanding piece of news was the plan in operation in some places where the boys and girls are taught to choose their own motion picture subjects, write their own scenarios, prepare the settings and costumes, give their own performances and photograph them and finally present them as finished motion pictures. Arrangements were even made to have these pictures shown on motion picture theatre screens, earning a fine sum for the furtherance of the work for the young people.

Mrs. Luther stated that out of the 14 pictures listed this season and asked for of our manager, 13 had been shown here, a very excellent record. The outstanding picture recommended was "The Story of the Life of Louis Pasteur", and all were urged to see it.

A hearty vote of thanks and appreciation was given Mrs. Luther for her valuable reports and also for the really wonderful, artistic and efficient manner in which she guided the Kingston Federation in its plans for and the successful carrying out of the recent Federation breakfast.

Then came the consideration of two new featured activities for the Kingston Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Harry B. Walker presented the idea of a "Better Speech" course of study for the Federation or its affiliated clubs. This is a definite study course with books prepared for study purposes, with the idea of making our women more careful of their speech, their pronunciation and enunciation and many of the phases of the subject, all tending to make American women better speakers at home or in public. Incidentally the clubs taking up this subject had considerable fun and enjoyment out of the study. Where the group are large enough the cost for the books is very small. Those present were greatly enthused over the matter and it was voted to start a course in this subject, which any Federation member is invited to join.

The other subject was that of "American Homes". Mrs. Luther having been appointed by Mrs. Smith, as chairman of this committee for the county. In order that there might be no duplication of effort, Mrs. Parsons, manager of the Ulster County Home Bureau, had been invited to be present. Mrs. Parsons spoke interestingly of the work along such lines now being carried on by the Home Bureau and it was evident that this new project for the Federation would in no way conflict with the county movement.

It has to do with a careful study of all sorts and kinds of subjects relative to making our American homes better in every way. One of the outstanding themes was "Consumers' Ruying", which was shown to really need considerable education in view of the multiplicity of new products and processes on the market.

So it was voted to take up both subjects at meetings to be held weekly, devoting one-half hour to "better speech", and another half hour to "better homes". More specific information will be given out later, and in the meantime those wishing to join one or both of these classes, with but small cost for the course, may communicate with Mrs. Luther, telephone 2114.

The decision to take up the study of these two subjects brought the meeting to a close.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness extended to us during the dinner and at the time of the death of Elizabeth Kalowicki, also for the beautiful floral tributes.

MUSICIANS MUSICAL NOTES

The past three weeks we have told you all about the entertainment to be found in the Night Clubs where union musicians are employed. I am glad to inform you that the same high type of entertainment will be found in the night clubs this week.

The Golden Rule Inn is featuring a winter sport week-end with many New York guests expected. The Clinton Ford will have the usual new Saturday night show. The Cat and the Fiddle will have a new band. The West Shore Hotel has new entertainment at Hulings Barn the Orchestra under Cy Austin has a surprise for you and at Katrine Inn you will be pleased with the music of Jesse Lawrence and his band.

I have made the road house or night club reports rather brief, as I feel that the bands playing club dates deserve some mention. The first to come to mind is the Orchestra of Jack Erns. This orchestra will be the feature at the K. of C. Ball tonight. The late William Diamond organized this orchestra back about 1922. There have been many changes in the personnel, but it still has a drawing power second to none.

The orchestra of Roger B. Schwartz is another outstanding dance band. This orchestra is very busy having played in Mohonk, Staatsburgh and New Paltz the past week. This band is in great demand on the east side of the river.

Paul Zucca is another dance leader that has a large following. Paul and his orchestra do more than their share of the club dates in this jurisdiction. This orchestra is another that has survived since the days of the Wang Wang Blues and Yes, We Have No Bananas.

Of course you are all familiar with the work of Jake Molloy's Broadway Theatre Orchestra. This outfit has done the bulk of the show work here for years and we look forward for the time when they will again play the Overture in the theatre. If you want music in the theatre, write the manager and tell him so. Send me a copy of the letter.

Emanuel Levy, better known as Mush Levy, has one of the outstanding young bands. Not so well known as the older ones, but just as good. He has a large following and will be a feature on any program.

Robert Steuding and his band is playing tonight in the Newburgh Armory for the Non-Commissioned Officers' Ball. We are advised that the ticket office has sold out. Over two hundred couples having purchased their tickets in advance. As you know, Bob has just completed a run at Hulings Barn and his orchestra is in top form. Bob has strengthened his rhythm section with the addition of Larry La Rochelle of the Golden Rule Orchestra. The Steuding orchestra will play on Monday night at the masquerade ball on Monday night at the Auditorium.

There are many other dance bands that deserve space in this column, but I will have to hold them for another date.

Your night club reporter,
J. A. COLE.

Saturday is Washington's Birthday, and as it is a legal holiday, the usual holiday hours will prevail at the local postoffice. There will be no deliveries of mail Saturday but there will be the usual holiday collection of mail, and the lobbies in the central post office and the two branch offices will remain open the usual holiday hours for the convenience of boxholders. The stamp and other windows will be closed all day.

A fine man, the President, but not big enough for the job the people gave him. It's the old story of a rich boy who has lived a sheltered life being unable to understand the ways of the world. That is why some of the great Presidents have been found among the poor people. They understood the minds of the common people.—Las Animas, Colorado, Leader.

Children Yell 'Police!', Not 'Mamma!'

Women's Force In Poland Wins Confidence Of Youngsters

Warsaw (AP)—Poland's blue-uniformed police-mamas are making a big hit with children; so much so that many a youngster yells "Police!" instead of "Mamma!" when he needs a friend.

Typical was the case of the little boy whose red balloon escaped on the boulevard. His screams brought a young policewoman who saw the balloon caught in a tree and promptly climbed up after it. One holiday night several ragged youngsters who saw a Christmas tree twinkling through the windows of police headquarters, walked right in and joined the party. The policewomen made them feel at home.

Social Welfare Force
Such success in winning the confidence of the young is in line with the principles on which the women's police force has developed. It was organized in 1925 to help the government's fight against white-slavery and the traffic in dangerous drugs.

Chief of the organization is Miss Stanislas Paleogues, who was an officer in the Polish army in the war with Soviet Russia. Under her leadership the women police see their greatest responsibility and opportunity in the field of social welfare. They have established homes for wayward girls and now superintend centers for the care of homeless children.

Marriage In Background
The policewomen are recruited from among healthy, unmarried applicants between the ages of 21 and 30. They must undergo six months of special training, and must sign for four years' service. During these four years they are bound to celibacy, and should they continue to serve after the four years have elapsed they must wait an additional three years before marriage.
The girl who signs up at 21 and takes her profession seriously must wait until she is 28 before she can marry.

Mischiefous boys in Warsaw, capital of Poland, do not fear "arrest" by the women police of Poland's capital for the nattily attired young women have gained the complete trust of the younger generation.

Inasmuch as most of the women police look so attractive in their navy blue uniforms that they turn many a young man's head, this seven-year wait has its disadvantages. It is already said to have complicated several romances heart-breakingly.

On the other hand, hesitant swains propose more promptly when the "one and only" girls hint they may join the police.

two much advertised singing stars of the screen, Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy, continue their operatic talents in this latest of the W. S. Van Dyke motion picture classics. It's bargain entertainment for it is a skillful blend of romance, melodrama, color and music, all joined into an entertaining unity by Director Van Dyke and his aides. The score was written by Rudolph Friml, there are dashes of "La Tosca" and "Romeo and Juliet" thrown in for operatic authenticity, and the story tells of a great singer who goes into the northwest to help her brother, a fugitive from justice. While there, a Royal Northwest Mounted falls in love with her and he is torn between duty and the love of a woman. The scenery is especially beautiful, a standout part of the production, and the Indian dances are another distinctive part of the show. The cast offers Allan Jones, James Stewart, Reginald Owen, Alan Mowbray, Una O'Connor, Pedro de Cordoba, Gilda Grey and Herman Bing. Good entertainment if you enjoy the singing team of Eddy and MacDonald.

Kingston: "Paddy O'Day" and "Nevada". Little Jane Withers, who is carving out quite a name for herself among the celluloid mills of Hollywood, plays the role of a homeless little Irish immigrant in the opening feature at the Kingston. She escapes from Ellis Island, wanders around New York and finally enters the life of a young eccentric millionaire. Her influence upon his future is the main part of the picture and it proves to be enjoyable and heartwarming drama. Pinky Tomlin, Rita Cansino, George Givot, Francis Ford and Vera Lewis are featured. "Nevada" is a wild and action jammed story of Arizona at the opening of the 20th century. The state was alive with cattle rustlers at the time and Buster Crabbe, featured player in the film, plays a cowboy who joins up with an outfit only to discover that they are the most murderous gang of rustlers in the business. This puts the little Mr. Crabbe on the spot but he works himself out in nice shape during the run of the show. Kathleen Burke, Monte Blue, Raymond Hatton and Glenn Erickson are also in the cast. Orpheum: Same.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Day and night, meet on a sound stage and still they do not clash.

The particular stage is the setting for much of the second effort in technicolor by John Hay Whitney's Pioneer company, makers of "Becky Sharp," last year's "color-revolution" film which did not quite revolutionize the industry.

The new picture is "Dancing Pirates," told in California of the early 19th century. In the cast are Frank Morgan, Stefani Duna, Victor Varconi and a newcomer, Charles Collins, in the title role.

It is a large set, embracing a chapel, a dirt-floored village square, several cloistered and balconied dwellings, a play graveyard—and the day and night skies. The painted backdrops, one a pale sky-blue, the other royal blue studded with small metal stars, are at opposite ends of the set. For a night scene they point the camera one way, for a day scene the lens turns around.

Less Stress On Color
But the interesting thing is the evidence of lessons learned from "Becky Sharp." Robert Edmund Jones, "designer in color" for the firm, seems to have placed more emphasis on design, less on color. For a technicolor picture, the set is positively subdued.

There are brilliant costumes, of course, and intricately designed lighting effects, but there is a striking absence of extreme "color consciousness" such as characterized earlier color films.

Instead of bright red ties on the roofs, there are pale adobe tiles—but perhaps this is to conform to the period. Still, the dominant color notes are provided by flowers—not spread lavishly over the set but concentrated in "natural" guises—and by blue and green festoons on the natural tan walls of the houses (this is a wedding feast, it appears).

Beside the chapel door stand two tall floral pieces—pink and yellow roses and palms—and within, at the altar, is a flowering life-sized peach tree.

Star-Polisher Busy
Odd jobs are abundant on the set. There is the star-polisher who rubs off tarnish from the metal sparklers. And the fly-sprayer works on the lights. The area, covered as they must be with screens for color effects, attract insects, whose maggot shadows on the faces of players would never do.

There are jobs for a painter too. The area, a dirty gray in color, would photograph white but for the spray of reddish brown "make-up."

But the floor-sprayer is really unusual. The door is of real adobe, tightly be "wet it down," and each morning the intense heat of the lights takes it to an authentic cracked condition.

RUSHNELLVILLE
Rushnellville, Feb. 21—Mrs. Caroline Simmons has returned to her home, after spending a few months in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Newhall have returned to their home in Catskill. While here for a few days they lived in the Newhall home in Kingston.

Several people from here have been going to Poughkeepsie, Sunday, to enjoy watching the winter sports.

Yesterday morning Harvey Kelly's thermometer registered 14 below zero. The lowest it has been was 15 below.

John Rowitz is helping fill the icehouse near the Townsends.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Whipsaw." Myrna Loy returns to the screen following a European vacation and finds herself in a melodrama of monstrous proportions to start out her new series of pictures. The story centers around a gang of jewel thieves, not the small time variety, but gentlemen who do big things in a big way. Miss Loy is their accomplice and Spencer Tracy is a federal man who tags her about in the hope of putting his finger on the whole outfit. Everything goes smoothly until the two fall in love and that hinders and complicates the work of both of them. It's lively screen fare, well directed and capably acted. Sam Wood directed and others in the cast include Harvey Stephens, Robert Warwick, George Renavent, William Harrigan, J. Anthony Hughes and Charles Irwin.

Kingston: "Hi Gaucho" and "The Lone Wolf Returns." Against an early 19th century background, the opening feature at the Kingston tells of a love between a low bred gaucho of the Argentine and an aristocrat girl of blue blood antecedents. How he wins her against all the barriers of caste and tradition is the prime motivating force of the film. The picture is a musical presentation more than anything else and much of the action is told in song. John Carroll, a newcomer with a pleasing voice, plays the role of the wild pampas lover and he is aided by Stefani Duna and Rod La Rocque. "The Lone Wolf Returns" continues the eventful career of the world's most capable jewel thief, none other than that romantic rogue known as the Lone Wolf. This time he falls in love with a girl who collects costly jewelry as a hobby. He resolves to give up jewel snatching for the sake of this wealthy girl he loves but his former helpers bring the pressure to bear in an effort to make him steal the sparklers of the woman he loves. The cast offers Melvyn Douglas, Gail Patrick, Douglass Dumbrille, Tala Birell, Thurston Hall and Nana Bryant.

Orpheum: "Cappy Ricks Returns" and "Men of Daring." The fiction character Peter B. Kyne made famous goes his pleasant way through the opening feature at the Orpheum, a story that tells in entertaining fashion the manner in which Cappy Ricks beats several of his business rivals. Robert McWade, Florine McKinney and Ray Walker are featured. "Men of Daring" is the other full length offering with Frankie Darrow.

Tomorrow
Broadway: "Rose Marie." Those

Time is Eastern Standard.

New York, Feb. 21 (AP).—With President Roosevelt as the principal speaker, a special Brotherhood Day program, arranged by the National Conference of Jews and Christians, is to go out on WJZ-NBC and WABC-CBS at 8 o'clock Sunday evening. The President, speaking from Hyde Park, N. Y., on "The American Good Brother," will be introduced from Chicago by Gen. Charles G. Dawes, vice-president in the Coolidge administration. Other speakers in the 15-minute broadcast will be Michael Francis Doyle and Cyrus Adler, both talking from Philadelphia.

Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York state is coming on the air Sunday night to talk about "The Fight Against Crime" in connection with the anti-crime bills now before the state legislature. He will speak at 10 o'clock via CBS stations within the state. They include WABC, WOKO, WFBL, WHDC, WOR and WESG.

After having been placed on the Saturday schedule of WABC-CBS the descriptive broadcast by CBS of Walter Johnson's attempt to throw a dollar across the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg, Va., (not Maryland) is off. There was some technical arrangement that did not materialize, such as broadcast lines to the point of the origin of the toss.

CLINTONDALE

Clinton, Feb. 21—The official board of the Clinton Methodist Church will hold its annual conference on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The church will be assisted and served by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church.

Whiteport School Wins Drama Prize

Presenting an outstanding show at Freeport's Hall in Rosendale last Monday night, the Whiteport school won first prize in a dramatic contest sponsored by the Rosendale Township Association in which the five other schools of the township competed. A large crowd packed the hall to see Whiteport and Binnewater present the last two shows in the series of six which began last November. Maple Hill took second prize by the merit of the play it gave in December.

Whiteport School Wins Drama Prize

The Whiteport school is attended by only 15 pupils and 11 of them were in the original minstrel show which was acted so well that it completely outshined the rival presentations according to the judges. Virginia Calkins and Marion Phillips, and Gordon Bartch, inter-locutor, were the stars of the show. Other actors were Samuel Coleman, Lillian Coleman, Madeline Metel, Lillian Waterfield, John Bartch, Frank Zolnowsky, Ardel Swanson and William Scott. Mrs. Henry Haeck, teacher of the school, presided over the play which will be presented a second time at the Rosendale Grange Hall Monday night.

Whiteport School Wins Drama Prize

Duplicating a historical segment of famous people in American history, the Binnewater Little Theatre group won a generous amount of applause. The cast included Margaret Hinkley, Charles Schenck, Cornelius Stricker, Vincent McDonough, Ruth Barringer, Leslie Barringer, Marjorie Brown, Saele Price, Virginia Dunbar, Augusta Strick, Burton Thorpe, Laurence Krew, Frances Barringer, Virginia Short, Wilbur Wheeler, Bruno Elm, Zena Fraz, Mary Edna Beach, Elizabeth Kilpatrick, Gilbert Stricker, Dorothy Kelly. They were coached by Mrs. Binnewater and Mrs. Kennedy of the school.

Printed net reveals a two-toned slip.
Liana Merwin

Not just what you wear, but what you wear under your gown is important this season. Many of the sheer fabrics have for their foundation a two-toned slip or one of solid contrasting color. In either case, it is bound to "rustle" and "swish" for taffeta is the favored material for this purpose.

There seem to be two definite silhouettes this season: The evelite, pencil, figure-revealing silhouette, and the more girlish full-skirted one. The very feminine and youthful dinner gown pictured above uses printed net over a taffeta slip. The net has a black background with varied white spots forming the design. Green taffeta makes the bodice of the slip, shining colorfully through the net, while the skirt part of the slip is of black taffeta. A touch of glitter is added by the rhinestone clips which form a laced effect on the bodice terminating the V-neckline. The full, fly-away sleeves are brief and a crushed wash of green taffeta lies around the waist. The slip is cut low at back to reveal a net covered back—this treatment is always flattering and especially important in the new styles.

You're sure to win prizes—and loud acclaim—with this beautifully designed afghan whose easy making will surprise you. It's the grandest sort of pickup work to carry with you, for you make it a square at a time, following clearly illustrated directions for the key square. Even though you're nothing but hay scraps of wool on hand—and the wool may be of different weights, too—you can obtain a lovely jewel effect just because each square is different. You can make an attractive pillow, too.

In pattern 5439 you will find complete instructions for making the afghan shown as well as pillow tops and chair sets; an illustration of the block and of the stitches needed; material requirements.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

FATHER AT 96 EXPECTS NEW HEIR

George Hughes, who is the father of a 14-month-old boy at 96, expects a new heir in May. He is shown at his New Bern, N. C., home with his 28-year-old wife and their son. The authenticated case of the boy's birth was recently published by the American Medical Association Journal. (Associated Press Photo)

NEW SLENDERNESS IN GRACIOUS LINES

MARIAN MARTIN TELLS MATRON

PATTERN 9777

There's new flattery appeal in this slim-line frock—new fulfillment of the wish in every woman's heart—to keep young-looking regardless of age. Moreover, this is just the type of all-purpose frock one needs, starting now, to wear throughout the Spring and Summer, and into the Fall. See what a wonderfully smooth and sleek line raglan shoulders impart? Too, there's a patterning of diagonal seams to detract from a too-round silhouette, and side-panels to mold the hips. You'll find this a decidedly more-than-once occasion frock in silk or crepe—either printed or plain. Also exceptionally practical in a dark color, heavy sheer. Complete. Diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9777 may be ordered only in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 3 1/2 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send fifteen cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, the style number and size of each pattern.

Be sure to send for our new Spring Pattern Book! You'll be happy as a lark over the way it simplifies your clothes problems! Dozens of easy-to-make, flattering designs—smart both for now and later in the season. News of Spring fabrics and accessories. Special slenderizing designs. Clothes budget hints. Patterns for children, misses, adults. Price of book fifteen cents. Book and pattern together, twenty-five cents.

Send your order to Kingston Daily Freeman Pattern Department, 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

During the past 11 years poultry has ranged from second to fifth in gross income among all agricultural enterprises in the United States. It is worthy of note that the poultry industry offers an opportunity to secure a reasonable income on a comparatively small piece of land.

KIWANIS COMMITTEE ON HOSPITAL SERVICE PLAN.

The following have been appointed a committee of the Kingston Kiwanis Club to have in charge any matter relating to Hospital Service Plan as outlined in the address given Thursday at the conclusion of the Kiwanis luncheon by Frank Van Dyk of New York. Any matters relating to the plan which might affect the club should be taken up through the committee, which will report to the club and receive the club's approval before any definite action is taken: Dr. Charles E. Parsons, Chester A. Baitz, Pratt Boice, the Hon. Bernard A. Culliton, the Hon. Joseph M. Fowler.

Appointment was made by Roger H. Loughran, president Kingston Kiwanis Club. Leonard H. Beers, newly elected to Kiwanis, has been placed on the business standards committee of the club.

HAUPTMANN DEATH DECREED FOR THIRD TIME

NEW, TRENCHARD, pursuant to the statutes in such cases made and provided, I, THOMAS W. TRENCHARD, Presiding Judge of the Rensselaer County Court of Oyer and Terminer, do hereby appoint the next commencing Monday, the first (30) day of March, A. D. 1936, as the week within which such sentence of death must be executed in the manner provided by law and hereby command you to execute said sentence upon some day within the week so appointed, and this shall, under the statutes of this state, be your sufficient warrant therefor.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand this nineteenth day of February, A. D. 1936.

Salvation Army Drive Ends Saturday

Thursday noon although the coldest day of the winter a group of faithful workers reported at the Salvation Army noon luncheon meeting. Their reports brought the grand total to $2,312.

Edward M. Stanbrough, captain of Team 4, led for the day in the Men's Division. Team 1, Captain Howard R. St. John, was high team to date.

Mrs. Cornelius Treadwell, captain of Ward Team 1, was high team for the day in the Women's Division with a total of $43.86. Mrs. Chauncey S. Main, captain of Team 11, was high team to date. Each day blue and red banners are presented to the high teams in each division. At this noon's meeting it was decided to extend the campaign another day until Saturday night. Instead of closing this noon. Because of the very unfavorable weather during most of the week which made it impossible for the workers to complete their canvass today, it was found necessary to extend the time. All workers in all teams will continue the task of solicitation throughout tomorrow in an effort to bring the total substantially above what was reported this noon. Many good friends of the Army who always contribute have not yet had an opportunity to do so. There are also a good many friends of the work temporarily out of the city who have been written to but who have not yet been heard from. Their subscriptions are also expected to swell the total.

The meeting held this noon was the largest and most enthusiastic of any held thus far. A meeting of the entire general committee followed the serving of the luncheon by the ladies of the Salvation Army. The tasty but inexpensive lunches every day throughout the campaign by the women members of the Army under the direction of Mrs. Adjutant Fred W. Seller, have been appreciated by all. Many of the workers have enjoyed new social contacts and have felt genuine satisfaction through having a part in making possible the very important work of the Salvation Army in Kingston.

Almost 100 women workers under the direction of Mrs. John B. Sterley, chairman of the Women's Division, as well as the workers in the Men's Division under George B. Matthews, chairman, pledged their continued support to General Chairman N. LeVan Haver. Realizing the importance of the work and of the necessity of providing sufficient funds to carry it through. Had not weather conditions been so severe the past week the workers feel they could have completed their task. The leaders in the campaign are extremely grateful to all the men and women of the community who have so unselfishly gone out day after day to obtain the subscriptions which have been reported. The last luncheon of the Campaign will be served tomorrow noon when all workers are urged to be present for final reports.

"Love" Was a Myth
Washington, Feb. 21 (AP)—Writers preparing a WPA guidebook on America announced today there was no love between Captain John Smith and Pocahontas. "She was much younger than he and in rescuing him was very likely actuated by her general friendliness toward the English colonists," the writers said.

The federal debt today is approximately $30,550,000,000 a figure comprehensible to none but astronomers. But a little figuring with a pencil will convince even the layman of the enormity of the burden that has been rolled up for the American taxpayers some day to pay.

Concert Here on Sunday Afternoon

Believing that the people of Kingston will be interested and appreciative of an opportunity to hear the finest in music it has been arranged to hold a concert on Sunday afternoon at the Municipal Auditorium by the WPA Orchestra, under the direction of Sal Castiglione. This orchestra is fast winning for itself a name for the best in interpretation of the highest type of music and has been well received wherever it has played. A program has been arranged which will be of the same high order and will include some of the best of classical numbers.

The program will commence at 3 o'clock and will be open to the public with no admission or no offering taken. This is for the benefit of the public and will afford them not only an opportunity to hear the best but will give them an opportunity to spend an hour in a highly cultural atmosphere on Sunday afternoon. It is hoped that many families will avail themselves of this chance.

This concert has been approved by the Kingston Ministerial Association and will be opened by the Rev. Clarence E. Brown, president of the association, with a few remarks outlining the object and purpose of the concert. If well received by the public of Kingston other concerts will follow. It is expected that the size of the audience will demonstrate the desire of the public for these concerts.

CAPITAL NEWS

HOLLISTER STURGEON, JR.

Albany, Feb. 21 (Special).—It would seem that Senator Joseph Clark Baldwin, III, only upper house Republican legislator from Manhattan, scored a bull's eye when he valiantly fought against air-conditioning the senate chamber which is estimated to cost the taxpayers the neat sum of $80,000.

Winning only 10 others to his cause, his amendment to a tax bill asking for a cut in the budget of this amount, was badly defeated. But the senator had the right idea when he asserted, "I can stand the bad air easier than the taxpayers can stand the bill."

Granted that the air is rather stagnant in this chamber, the members are certainly not actually in session very many hours of the year. If their legislative work consisted of eight hours a day in this chamber, six days a week, fifty weeks a year, that would be one thing.

Actually, however, the chamber is not used much more than three months of the year, and then only a short time on the average of three days a week for some two to four hours.

During the regular session the senators meet each Monday night at 8:30 o'clock and are through by 10 or 11 o'clock. On Tuesday mornings they reconvene for about an hour and the balance of the week is perfunctory with only technical legislative days at which only three or four members are present.

As the session progresses the hour of attendance in the chamber lengthens. The last two weeks are actual hard work, the sessions running as long as 12 hours, but there are intermittent recesses giving ample rest for breathing exercises for those whose lungs would have relief.

Senator John J. Dunnigan, leader of the senate, declares that at times he is kept awake at night worrying over the health of some members who may be afflicted with a heart or lung disease. Perhaps it is fair, then, to point the finger of guilt to Mr. Dunnigan for keeping the members, during the closing days of the senate, in session for such a long time.

The cost of $80,000 is a mere drop in the bucket when one looks at the total cost of state governmental expenditures of over $300,000,000, but it is a propitious beginning. If the senate can cut this one item from expense and this can be used as a yardstick, think what the entire savings might be, if such suggestions

The Governor's Broadcast

So far as the 1936 legislative session is concerned, the "big broadcast" is scheduled for next Sunday night of the state-wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting Company.

Governor Herbert H. Lehman, from his study in the executive mansion, will be the speaker, his subject-matter being "The Fight Against Crime."

Using this method to answer a beligerent legislature, which has refused to endorse 100 per cent the 60-point Lehman anti-crime program, the governor carries his cause directly to the people.

On a subject very much alive in the news with popular interest, the chief executive hurdles the two legislative bodies at a single jump. Curiously is kept as to what he will say between 10 and 10:30 o'clock Sunday night. He can say a lot in that time.

Copies of his broadcast will be transmitted to the legislature, although he has already irked several members by the means which he has selected to answer their formal resolution requesting that he name the so-called "powerful forces" that are alleged to be blocking his program.

The Flood Bill

Signature by Governor Lehman today is expected to make into law the state commission of flood control to aid the federal government in flood control that army engineers are soon expected to start working on. Acting as an advisory group, members of this commission, serving without pay and to be appointed from the legislature by the governor, will be ready to take up the problems of flood control in areas stricken last summer by torrential rains which caused much damage to life and property.

Senator O'Brien J. Ross of Troy is author of the bill. It is possible that Senator Arthur H. Wicks of Kingston will get a berth on this commission, since his district is one of those which suffered from the floods last year. Another prospect is Senator Martin W. Deyo of Binghamton, who spoke on the Ross bill as a most necessary piece of legislation.

As previously pointed out, the federal government will stand the bulk of expense for engineering operations, although a small appropriation may be forthcoming, after the executive budget has been passed, to supplement the commission with necessary clerks and clerical overhead that may be involved. The legislature may seek several thousands of dollars for these disbursements.

Soviet Union's Army Absorbs Militia; Million Men Ready For Call To Arms

The Soviet Union, with a standing army of a million men, is preparing to expand that force by half under a huge new war budget. More bayonets, bigger and faster planes and additional tanks are on the program, which is to cost an estimated $3,000,000,000.

By JOHN LLOYD

Moscow (AP).—In view of what the Soviet Union's high command sees as a threatening international situation, almost the whole red "national guard" system has been converted into a standing army.

There now are more than 1,000,000 men under arms and ready to take the field on a moment's notice in Europe or the Far East.

(Yoshiyuki Kawashima, Japan's war minister, recently said in Tokyo that the Soviet Union had concentrated in eastern Siberia a force of 25,000 men plus 800 airplanes and 650 tanks.)

Huge War Budget Revealed

A huge war budget, figuring out at approximately $3,000,000,000 on the basis of the new five rubles to the dollar exchange rate, was announced in January.

Since a large part of this is to be used for increasing man-strength, observers estimate that the Union will have at least 1,500,000 men under arms by the end of the year.

The total strength now, including the national guards or so-called "territorials," is 1,300,000. Of these 1,061,000 are on permanent duty and 239,000 are called up at stated intervals.

The relative sizes of the standing and territorial forces are almost the reverse of what they were until recently. Previous to the reorganization only 26 per cent of the army was on permanent duty.

More Tanks and Planes

Much money is to be spent during 1936 in additions to the tank force. No official figures have been given out as to the number of tanks already in service, but they are known to run into the thousands.

A much-felt need, according to Soviet military men, is development of long-range bombing planes. Those presently in use do not have enough cruising capacity to make round trips to the vital centers of the countries most likely to be opposed to the Soviet Union in war.

Red statesmen frankly name Germany and Japan as these countries. Decision to build up the big Soviet military machine was taken, they have explained, because of threats of German and Japanese origin.

Army Is Vast School

Compulsory military service gives the Union a sufficient supply of recruits. The government is spending large sums for educational work among the soldiers, the period of army service being described as also a period of schooling to prepare the soldier for life as a civilian.

A 60 per cent pay increase has been promised the troops this year and barracks in all parts of the country are to be enlarged and modeled.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ALBANY AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH.

Special programs will mark the regular services at the Albany Avenue Baptist Church on Sunday. At the morning service the pastor, the Rev. Arthur S. Cole, will preach on the topic, "Why Join the Church?"

With strong emphasis on the value and opportunity of church membership. In the evening at 7:30 o'clock two special features will be included in the program of worship. One is a baritone solo by Raymond Ingersoll, a student in Kingston High School, and the other will be an address by a Chinese student who is a graduate of Princeton University.

Besides these services the Bible school session is held at 10 o'clock and the Christian Endeavor meeting, with Harold Canfield as leader, comes at 6:30 p. m.

PALENTOWN

Paleontown, Feb. 21.—Friends regret that Vincent Traver has been ill and unable to attend school for the last few days.

Laura Coddington, Anna Miller, Benjamin Lee, Arthur Lee and William Lee have not been absent from school during the last year since school opened in September. The girls have not been late or absent but the boys have been late a few times.

Stewart Lee is working for a few days at the home of Wilson Gray assisting with the farm duties.

Roads were blocked and school was not in session on Valentine's Day but the teacher and children enjoyed their Valentine's party Monday afternoon. Valentines were exchanged with Arthur Lee acting as postmaster and Jennie Lee acting as his assistant in bringing their fun to a close. Mrs. Wynkoop, who is substituting for Miss Cross, presented each pupil with appropriate candy hearts wrapped in dainty white napkins.

Miss Cross, who underwent an operation for appendicitis some time ago, is convalescing at her home in Cooperstown. All are glad that she is gaining nicely at this writing.

Lloyd Embree spent Saturday evening very pleasantly in the Brauer home.

John Traver was unable to cover his regular route with the school bus on account of blocked roads. He took the Brauer students and made the trip via Tabasco.

The people were glad to have the snow-plow come through to open up the mail route, also the bus route. The plow came through Tuesday night. The mail carrier hasn't been able to get through this route since last Thursday. The road was so bad Tuesday night, Mrs. Wynkoop remained with Mrs. Joseph Lennon and family. The evening was spent very pleasantly playing pinocle.

Wilson Gray had the misfortune to hurt his foot badly while gathering ice.

No branch of animal production, says the Biological Survey, has developed more rapidly during the depression than has resulted in greater profits than silver-fox farming, and this at a time when some farm commodities scarcely had a market. Investment in fur farming is now estimated at $50,000,000. Fox farmers in 1934-35 harvested 170,000 pelts, having a total value of approximately $7,000,000.

Systematic planning of its work is one of the characteristics of the Grange organization, likewise an important reason why it has been so successful during the last half century and more, in shaping rural policies, enlisting active support and making itself a mighty factor for the benefit of agriculture and the farm people.

ACCORD

Accord, Feb. 21.—The postoffice hours Saturday, February 22, will be 7:15 a. m. to 10 a. m., this being Washington's birthday. There will be no rural delivery on this day.

Miss Mae Miller, who has been ill at her home with a cold, is able to be around again.

Ross Coddington is suffering from an injury to his knee, sustained while tobogganing.

Mrs. William Foskitt is ill at the Methodist Episcopal Hospital in Brooklyn, where she expects to undergo an operation. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Elma Benton, who has been ill at her home with the measles, is able to be around again.

Mrs. Henry L. DeVoe spent Tuesday with Mrs. George Coddington.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Barry Mirelowitz and family in their recent bereavement.

The Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church will hold its monthly dinner in the church hall on Thursday, February 27, at noon. The following will be served: Roast lamb with dressing, mashed potatoes, peas, cabbage and celery salad, pickles, jelly, steamed graham pudding with hard sauce and coffee.

Fire prevention education has done much to acquaint the general public with the dangers of fire, and the work of the city fire departments and the fire insurance companies organizations has made the nation generally a safer place in which to live. However, the instinct of self-preservation still causes people to rush in panic to escape the flames instead of walking calmly to exit which, under the latter condition, would be adequate for all.

VICTORIOUS LEFTISTS ENVISAGE SPANISH SOVIET

Scenarios predicted that Spanish soviet republics would be set up by Spain's soviet government as the new soviet took office on the heels of a smashing soviet victory. There are soviet voters, who are organized in a communist salute, as they demonstrated in a Madrid theater shortly before the elections. (Associated Press Photo)

Look for Busy Time at Phoenicia

Indications point to one of the busiest week-ends of the season at Phoenicia with a special snow train coming up to that Catskill mountain village this evening. The train will leave New York city at 7:20 o'clock in order that those who work during the day will have an opportunity of gathering together their snow equipment before boarding the train for the mountains. Saturday being Washington's Birthday, many business places in New York will observe a holiday and a record crowd is expected on the train this evening since it gives two full days to enjoy the winter sports in the mountains.

That the train will have a full complement of winter sport enthusiasts is assured as already over 300 reservations have been made for the week-end. Up to Thursday night 312 reservations had been made in Phoenicia and vicinity for over Friday and Saturday night. Practically every house open in the vicinity will be filled.

Beside the Friday night train there will be the usual Sunday snow train coming up in the morning and leaving Sunday evening. A delegation from the Phoenicia Ski Club will be in New York city and return on the Sunday snow train to render such advice and assistance as the guests desire.

Today the ski trails were reported very fast at Phoenicia. The J. H. Simpson Memorial ski slope and the lower trails are covered with a slight crust from the recent rain and are very fast while the upper trails are covered with a powder snow and there is plenty of snow on all trails for action.

Trails recommended as liable to be best over the week-end are Wittenberg, Wittenberg, Mt. Tremper, Belle Air and on any one of these trails the more expert skiers will find good going.

This evening and again on Saturday evening the members of M. F. Whitney Engine Company will give their annual firemen's play at the Phoenicia Dramatic Club and the comedy will undoubtedly attract a large number of the city folks who remain in the village over night.

As income rises, food purchases increase. Fluid milk and cream sales grow. Fresh fruit and eggs are added to diets from which they may have been missing when the food budget was low and the fare plain.

Salads are welcomed back to dinner tables. More varieties and better quality meats take their rightful place on the table and everybody is happier. Booklets dealing with the preparation of foodstuffs are available at the Albany office of Consumers Information Service without cost and due announcement is made as new booklets are added to the list.

Seeks Annulment

Mrs. Jane De Walden Cooke Scarlett is shown in court at Washington, D. C., as she sought annulment of her marriage to James S. Scarlett, the family chauffeur. ## Parent-Teacher Associations

Business Meeting
Flatbush, Feb. 21.—The Flatbush P. T. A. held its business meeting at the schoolhouse Friday evening, February 21, at 8 p. m. After a short business meeting the president, Mrs. Pothemont, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Harry Davis, who was in charge of the Founder's Day program. Songs were sung by the members. Mildred Davis played the piano. Mrs. Kukuk, Mrs. Ryder, Florence Pothemont, Mrs. Howard Osterhoudt, Virginia Ettinger all took part in the program. Miss P. Chesire gave a very interesting talk on what the Flatbush P. T. A. had done for the school and the children of the school.

A candlelight Founder's Day service was then carried out, with Mrs. H. Davis acting as reader.

Refreshments were served by the 4-H Girls, in charge of Miss Thomas. There were many members present and they all thank Mrs. H. Davis, the 4-H Girls and Miss Thomas for making the evening very pleasant.

Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Ruby P. T. A. was held February 13 at the school. At the business meeting plans were discussed for a card party to be held for the benefit of the P. T. A. at Miss C. Goldpaugh's home at 124 S. Manor avenue, Kingston, on Friday, February 28. After the business meeting a program in charge of Miss Goldpaugh was given to celebrate Founder's Day. Miss Mary Young read a paper on the lives of the founders. An effective candle lighting ceremony was given by the members of P. T. A. Mrs. Carl Wille, Mrs. Lella Felton and Miss C. Goldpaugh, also the following pupils of the school: Florence Felton, Jean Schell, Genevieve Young, Marian Scheff, Bernice Sutton and Charles Sutton. The birthday cake for the candle lighting ceremony was given by Mrs. Lella Felton. Refreshments were then served and a social hour enjoyed by all.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Feb. 21.—The weekly meeting of Hope Lodge, No. 65, K. of P. will be held this evening.

Through a regrettable error the name of Miss Nellie Gardner was omitted from the list of those who attended the birthday surprise given Mrs. Martha Van Vleet one day recently.

Mrs. Earle Terwilliger and sons of Hurley visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Terwilliger Wednesday.

Mrs. John Reynolds will entertain the Ever Read Club at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Joseph Stadt, who has been ill, is improving at her home on Bowne street.

Mrs. A. W. Short and daughter, Betty Anne, were Thursday guests of Mrs. Martin Van Aken at her home in Kingston.

The Port Ewen firemen are requested to meet at the fire house at 8:15 this evening to go to Mechanics Hall, Kingston, to play darts.

Mrs. Charles Neice is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold White, at Cheango Bridge.

Ernest Weiss is employed by W. K. Van Vleet, local coal dealer. Mr. Van Vleet recently purchased a new conveyor to be used in his coal business.

FLATBUSH

Flatbush, Feb. 21.—Howard Osterhoudt, who had his leg broken at the knee and ankle, is doing nicely under the care of Dr. Gifford at the Benedictine Hospital. His many friends will be glad to know his leg will be in the cast by this time, and he no doubt will be able to come home soon.

Owing to the storm last Friday the regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Society was not held. The next month's meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. John A. Dismeyer, on Friday, March 12.

Prayer meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dismeyer last week.

The men of the Flatbush Reformed Church will hold a roast pork supper in the church hall on Tuesday evening, February 23. A cordial invitation is extended to all neighbors and friends.

Women dress for men to look at and other women to talk about.

D. A. R. Meeting

Following a regular custom of the D. A. R. the local chapter will celebrate Washington's Birthday on Saturday afternoon, February 22, at 2:30 o'clock by holding a social meeting in the chapter house, when each member of the organization may bring a guest. A delightful afternoon is anticipated. Mrs. Raymond R. Gross has arranged a musical program and serving of refreshments will be in charge of Mrs. John Saxe.

Secure License

New York, Feb. 20 (Special).—Edward Wallin, 25, formerly of Kerhonkson and at present of 724 Stone avenue, Brooklyn, and Miss Anita Bier, 19, a student of 1 University Place, New York, secured a license to wed at the Municipal Building here today. They will be married in Supreme Court here this month by Justice William Harman Black. Mr. Wallin was born in Kerhonkson, the son of Samuel and Mollie Norkusky Wallin. The bride-elect is the daughter of Robert and Gussie Friedman Bier. She was born in Brooklyn.

Beesmer-Markle

Olive Bridge, Feb. 21.—On Tuesday evening, Miss Alberta Markle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Markle of Atwood and Ernest Beesmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Beesmer were married at the parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Lockett. Their attendants were Miss Jennie Beesmer and David, a brother of the bride. On Wednesday evening a few of Alberta's and Ernest's friends, including Mildred Davis from Atwood, Vera Barringer, Mrs. Cecil Gray, Mrs. J. C. Marshall, Ruth Donohue, Jennie Beesmer, Lawrence Van Gabeck, Robert Crispell, Robert Christy, Anna, Raymond Davis, Sherman Miller, Chester Miller, Marion Oakley, Mr. and Mrs. Boh Vahlum, L. B. and Babe Nichols, Earl Christians, William Beesmer, Dave Markle, Otto Rappleyea, John Crispell, Leslie Keator, Harold Constable and Buss Avery. All gathered at his parents' home to give them a skimmington, after plenty of guns were fired the bride and groom came forth and invited the group into the house after which bountiful refreshments were served. Then the next thing was to clear the floor for an old fashioned dance. Music was furnished by Harold Constable. At midnight friends departed wishing them happiness.

Welcome Party

Olive Bridge, Feb. 21.—In spite of the cold weather and snow the following people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald E. Davis Tuesday, February 18: Mrs. Herbert Markle of Kingston, Miss Margaret Burham of Willow, Mrs. Roland Shultz and Lester Shultz of Wittenberg, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Osterhoudt of Atwood, Mr. and Mrs. Myron H. Myers, Albert Myers and Mrs. Jennie Myers of Samsonville, Miss Deborah Bevier of Minneapolis, Minn. The occasion was to welcome the late Joseph and Harbrough Bevier. During the evening she told of living conditions in the central west and showed pictures of the remaining family, which were very interesting to those present. Later in the evening refreshments were served and the guests departed. Everyone regretted very much the absence of Mrs. Albert Myers and children, due to illness.

Rampe-Griffin

Miss Rita Griffin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Griffin, 48 Hunter street, and Clifford Rampe, of Ellenville, were married Saturday morning, February 15, at 11:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, Ellenville, by the Rev. Father Moskigo. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Griffin, while the best man was Edward Unverzagt of Ellenville. The bride was dressed in gray, with accessories to match, and carried a corsage of pink sweet peas. The bridesmaid was attired in pink with gray accessories and carried a corsage of white sweet peas. Following the ceremony the young couple left on a short wedding trip to New York city. The bride was employed by the Van Slyke and Horton company here, while the groom is connected with the Chevrolet Motor Company at Tarrytown. Upon their return for their wedding trip they will reside in a newly furnished home at Tarrytown.

Hauptmann Evidence On Notes Collapses

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 21 (P).—Reported fresh evidence fixing Bruno Richard Hauptmann anew as the writer of the Lindbergh ransom notes collapsed today at the same time that Governor Harold G. Hoffman reiterated he has no intention of granting a second reprieve to the condemned man.

The handwriting "evidence" was supposedly discovered in the office of Col. Mark O. Kimberling, warden of the state prison, by a subordinate who said he detected a similarity between the letter "p" in the ransom notes and the same character in letters written by Hauptmann since he had been in the death house.

"Colonel Selby (George Selby, chief deputy) received a note written by Hauptmann," Col. Kimberling said. "He found a letter 'p' he thought looked like that in the ransom notes. I don't agree there is a similarity or that there is any resemblance. The handwriting has not been referred to an expert and will not be. There is no need for it."

Governor Hoffman in a formal statement, said he was "more convinced than ever" by Hauptmann's silence that the crime is still unsolved, and said he had made no plan for another reprieve.

Today, through his press aide, William Conkling, he said: "The governor said last night there will be no further reprieve. He has not changed his attitude."

CHRISTADELPHIAN PANCAKE SUPPER A GREAT SUCCESS

Over 100 people attended and appreciated the pancake supper given by the Christadelphian Society at the Elmendorf Street Presbyterian Church Wednesday night. The service received many favorable comments. Mr. Freer, with two women assisting, always had plenty of cakes ready. Mrs. A. Reese and Mrs. Richardson kept things moving in the kitchen and Earl Slight, Bob Christians and Irwin Thomas had their hands full with the dish washing.

Mrs. Burger was in charge of the floor, assisted by Helen Reese, Evelyn Winfield, Maria DeBols, Edwin Schultz, Jeanne DeBols, Joyce Barham, Marge Clabb, Elsiea Burger, Alma Burger, Betty Gibson, Ben Storms, Charles Bailey, Willard Shiele, Johnny Enns, Jasper Kolder, of Schwenk's bakery, had charge of the sausage and Donald Van Gaasbeek was cashier. The committee appreciates the assistance given by Frank Thompson's Meat Company and Thompson's Laundry, also the Kaple Company.

Columbia Development

Washington, Feb. 21 (AP).—President Roosevelt considers the Columbia river basin area large enough to warrant a special development authority similar to the Tennessee Valley authority. He expressed this view today in reply to a press conference question about the world's next watershed. Legislation at Lake Mead was considered rather unlikely in view of the attempts on Capitol Hill for an early adjournment.

THE JOURNALS

Room of Interest to Members of Pastoral Association

The regular weekly meeting of Charles DeWitt Council, No. 31, Jr. O. U. A. M. will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Lodge Rooms, 34 Henry street.

Local Death Record

The funeral services for Julia Ruoff, wife of William Ruoff, were held at the residence, 12 Crown street, Thursday at 11 a. m., conducted by the Rev. Arthur G. Carroll, pastor of St. James M. E. Church. The remains were placed in the Wiltwyck receiving vault.

William T. Doty, dean of Orange county newspaper men, former assemblyman and historian, died Wednesday night at his home in Circleville after a period of confinement to bed which began August 23, with injuries suffered in a fall at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Seymour Masten, at Englewood, N. J. He would have observed his ninetieth birthday March 11.

Joseph P. Hebert, husband of the late Mary Henderson, and brother of Mrs. Mary Madden, and brother of Mrs. Mary Margaret Donnelly, died at his home in this city today. Mr. Hebert was employed by the West Shore Railroad for 50 years and at the time of his death led a retired life. He was a faithful member of St. Mary's Church of this city and was a member of the Holy Name Society of that church. Funeral services will be held from the residence of his sister, Mrs. Alice Van Etten, 9 Wynkoop place, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and at 9:30 o'clock from St. Mary's Church where a high Mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of his soul. Interment will be in the family plot in St. Mary's cemetery.

About The Folks

Mrs. Bertha Peckerman of 271 Main street has returned home after spending three weeks at Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. LaMothe and son, Thomas Jay, of Schriever Court, are spending the week-end with Mr. LaMothe's parents in Leominster, Mass.

Site of Abraham's Altar Is Found Near Jerusalem

Jerusalem.—An ancient temple which stood at a place called Al. some nine miles north from here, 1,000 years before Abraham erected an altar there, after reaching Canaan on his way from Ur of the Chaldees, has been discovered by a young woman archaeologist.

Abraham erected his shrine 4,000 years ago, in modern reckoning. Miss Judith Krause Marquet, a young Jewess, who is conducting research work outside Ramallah with the help of funds furnished by the late Baron Edmond de Rothschild, is responsible for the discovery. She unearthed a complete system of fortifications with a massive gate similar to that which was discovered some time ago in Anatolia, but the new find is some thousand years older.

At was apparently a walled city in Canaanite times, but the remains show traces of the Iron and Bronze ages.

Test Robot in Lightship Off Coast of Michigan

Detroit, Mich.—The United States lighthouse service is experimenting near here with a new type of robot warning ship that may replace many present-day lightships.

Eight miles off the Michigan coast in Lake St. Clair—connecting lake between Lakes Erie and Huron—a crewless ship performs all the functions of warning mariners of nearby danger.

As soon as darkness closes down a warning beacon flares, a radio beacon sends steady calls and fog signals blare warnings during murky weather. In a lighthouse along the coastline the keeper merely presses buttons to work the apparatus.

The present ship, in operation for the last six months, will continue as an experiment for another year. The success of its operation probably will decide future policy of the government service to seafarers.

Alaskan Ranch Attempts Breeding Karakul Sheep

Anchorage, Alaska.—Breeding of karakul sheep, a species which originated in Persia and is noted for its fur, will be tried in the Alaskan islands by the Kanaga Ranching company.

The firm shipped north three rams and eight ewes for an experiment. Here will be brought next year 10 sheep (five on the wind-swept island). One ram was imported from Germany, the other sheep from Sweden, Texas.

The ranching company will raise the karakul sheep principally for fox food. It needs thousands of fur-bearing skins on several islands of the Alaskan archipelago. Parts of the sheep also are valuable for the fur.

An Apple

McLean, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma Richards of McLean has started the contest for the largest greenleaf apple grown in the Lower Mississippi valley by displaying a huge green Marsh apple, 2 1/2 inches in circumference, and a ripe Marsh apple 2 1/2 inches in circumference.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Highly active buying today in the stock market resulted in an irregular performance during the early afternoon. Utilities maintained a steady tone along with aircraft, alcohol and all equipment issues, although changes on the upside were fractional except in some of the higher price issues.

A heavy volume during the first hour of dealings divided when profit-taking and other adjustments appeared.

American Telephone was up slightly, but International Telephone was down on news of political events in Spain where the company has large holdings. Western Union declined.

Consolidated Gas and North American improved minor fractions, but better action was seen in Standard Brands, J. I. Case, American Locomotive and Lima, Douglas Aircraft, Baltimore & Ohio, Chicago & Northwestern, Studebaker and Chrysler.

Most of the other favorites were depressed including Loew's, Borg-Warner, American Smelting, Deere, S. Steel, Republic Steel, New York Central, Northern Pacific and Standard Oil of California and N. J. Cotton and grains were irregular, the dollar was steady against leading foreign exchanges, and bond trading was quiet.

Sheriff and Reporter Find No Distress at The Vly After Tour

"No, I'm all right. Who sent for you?"

This is what Paul Sperling, 75-year-old resident of The Vly said in answer to Sheriff Abram F. Molyneux's query whether he was in distress.

Sheriff Molyneux and Deputy Clayton Vredenburg, accompanied by a Freeman reporter, visited the hamlet Thursday to investigate whether or not there were any snowbound folk there. The trip was made on the strength of a letter sent to The Freeman, complaining about road conditions and distress among the farmers because of deep snow.

The sheriff spent about three hours in The Vly making a thorough check to see that there was no suffering either on the part of human beings or cattle, because they could not be fed.

"We can't get out and no one can get to us" and "We don't know just what is the matter, but we do know that we need help" are two of the quotations from the letter of appeal sent to The Freeman signed "The People of This Place, The Vly, N. Y."

In the message it was intimated chickens and cattle were on the verge of starving because of food shortages.

Sheriff Molyneux, upon being informed of the matter, started out Thursday morning to investigate at The Vly. With Deputy Vredenburg and a reporter he drove into the little community in the hills back of Stone Ridge. The county road leading to the place was free of snow down to the bare pavement, and the town roads were plowed the width of one car.

The sheriff drove through the tall timbered section leading to the hamlet without meeting any traffic except a team driven by Charles Krom, who was delivering a load of cord wood to Stone Ridge. His ride was a matter of a day with the two big grays.

Krom did a bit of shoveling, and Vredenburg a neat chauffeur job to make the pass.

"Do you know of any one in distress up here?" Sheriff Molyneux asked the woodman.

"Haven't heard of anyone," he answered. "People up here kind of prepare for these winters, you know, and always have provisions laid away."

"When were the roads plowed?" the sheriff wanted to know.

"Well, they weren't plowed until last night. The town plows broke down, they said, and we had to wait for a plow from the town of Olive. It went through Wednesday."

The sheriff continued, investigating here and there among residents about the snowbound conditions alleged in the letter to the newspaper. No one could be found who knew anything about the letter or who might have written it.

A chicken farmer by the name of Oscar Olsen, a husky young fellow living deep in the hills, said his provisions had gone low, but he had enough to last him until the plow went over the roads and then he was able to get to Cornish's store in Stone Ridge for feed.

Olsen knew nothing of any appeal written to The Freeman or of anyone who was in distress.

"There's only one old man down the road a bit, who might have had trouble, but I doubt if he's in need of anything," said the farmer.

He gave directions to the sheriff's party how to get to the elderly farmer's place and the three went down to visit it.

About a mile off the town road, back in the woods, the officers, who made their way on snowshoes, found the 75-year-old Paul Sperling, well and hearty for his age.

As the sheriff approached the farm a large collie dog sounded warning. He dashed toward the men barking loudly. And the old farmer was frantic for fear of an attack. This didn't happen because the animal is not vicious, and only romped about.

"No, I'm not in distress. I'm all right. Who sent you up here?" These were the words old Mr. Sperling spoke in answer to the sheriff's questions. The genial farmer of German extraction was not upset, however. He welcomed the visit.

"I have plenty to eat. Lots of oatmeal, eggs, chickens and goat's milk," he said. "There's only one thing I worry about when we have snow like this. I'm always afraid for the animals, but I always manage to get to them. I guess I won't stay here any more winters, because I'm too old to be safe."

Sperling, who has been on his Vly farm for 29 years, lives alone.

May Attend Funeral

New Rochelle, N. Y., Feb. 21 (AP)—Alice Jones was undecided today whether to attend tomorrow's funeral services for her divorced husband, Leonard Rip Rhineland, but she will go to Woodlawn Cemetery where burial will take place. The funeral will take place at the home of Mrs. Rhineland, where his son died. She sent a floral wreath to the house today.

MARKETS FOR FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—(State Department of Agriculture and Markets)—Jobbing sales on yellow onions in 50-lb sacks U. S. No. 1, brought $1.15-$1.25 for the best, and $1.00-$1.10 for poorer, medium size stock brought 75c-$1.00, and No. 2's 50c-65c. Red onions in 50-lb sacks U. S. No. 1 brought $1.00-$1.15, poorer medium to small size stock ranged 80c-75c.

Danish white cabbage in bulk $22.00-$24.00 per ton and in 50-lb. sacks 55c-70c, poorer 50c. Red cabbage in 50-lb sacks jobbed out at $2.00-$2.25 for the best and $1.25-$1.75 for poorer.

Western New York's supplies of beets and carrots were moderate. One hundred pound sacks topped round beets $1.15-$1.35, unwashed carrots brought $1.25-$1.35.

Little activity prevailed on the market for potatoes, supplies of which were moderate but the demand again slow. Long Island 100-lb sacks Green Mt. potatoes U. S. No. 1 from the South Side jobbed out at $1.80-$1.90, very rarely higher; North Side stock brought $1.65-$1.75. Maine 100-lb sacks Green Mt. potatoes U. S. No. 1 sold within the price range of $1.65-$1.75.

Fresh receipts of apples from the western part of the state were relatively light today. Fair supplies however were on hand from previous arrivals. The demand continued slow although price changes were small and unimportant, especially on attractive quality carefully graded fruit in a steady market. Baldwin apples N. Y. U. S. grade No. 1, 2 1/2 inch min in open boxes or bushel baskets brought principally $1.10-$1.15; McIntosh No. 1, 2 1/2 inch $1.10-$1.15, occasionally as high as $1.50, and poorer $1.12-$1.15. Rhode Island Greening No. 1, 2 1/2 inch $1.00-$1.25.

Kingston Wins DUSO Championship As Middletown Is Defeated 50 to 28

With a crowd of over 700 to cheer them on, the Maroon and White teams wound up their league schedule in a blaze of glory at the Auditorium court Thursday night, by overwhelming Middletown 50 to 28, to win the DUSO crown in basketball for the season of 1935-36. The noted Rock brothers, Charlie and Eddie, put on a two-man show that was too much for the Middle. This pair of best working forwards in the DUSO circuit pumped the ball through the hoop for a total of 10 points between them. Charlie took the scoring honors for the evening, rolling up a new league high of 23 points, increasing his total to 89, which puts him far ahead of other high scorers. Captain Eddie Rock hit his top form, accounting for 17 points on 8 fields and a foul. Tommy Maines and Lou Glenn had a pair of fields while Knute Belchert had a lone dabble to conclude Kingston's scoring for the evening. Ray Dodd kept the Middle in the running by picking up 11 points, Nick Vuolo and Bob Nelson being next in line with 6 and 5.

From the opening whistle the new "DUSO champs" commanded a lead which the Middle never threatened. At one stage they were out in front by 23 points.

The game was exceedingly rough. Referee Cahill called a total of 26 fouls, 14 of them against Kingston. Knute Belchert was the only player ejected from the game on account of having four personals called on him. He was sent to the showers early in the third period.

Lou Glenn was forced to the sideline in the second period when he turned his ankle. He returned to the lineup later, when Belchert was put out and went on to play a bang-up game. Several other players, on both teams, received injuries. Nick Vuolo of the Middle had a tough job holding Eddie Rock and at times Nick could be seen holding onto Eddie's pants in order to hold him back. During the third period Ray Dodd came close to giving Kingston a field which she little needed. He was about to score on a beautiful push up when he realized his mistake and tossed the ball out of bounds. In the closing seconds of play, with Kingston just two points short of 50, the crowd let out a cry for some one to add that needed dabble and Charlie Rock tossed in the desired field goal so that everyone would go home feeling happy.

First Quarter.

Captain Eddie Rock started the evening with a converted foul. Tommy Maines continued with a pop shot with Eddie adding two more on a lay up. Bob Nelson opened for the Middle with a score from the same place with Bob Duffins contributing a foul. Tommy Maines and Lou Glenn scored on successive fields, bringing the score up to 9-2 with Middletown calling time out. Harry Meola resumed by swishing a set shot. Eddie Rock retaliated with an easy push up. Ray Dodd and Charlie Rock each made good their free throws before the quarter ended, Kingston out in front 12-6.

Second Quarter.

Eddie Rock threw a beautiful shot back over his head. Charlie Rock scored six points on push ups in rapid succession. Dodd and Vuolo each contributed fouls. Charlie's foul and Eddie's push up concluded Kingston's point getting. Swan's foul and Dodd's field were the final scores, Kingston still in front, 22-11.

Third Quarter.

Belchert scored on a push-up. Nick Vuolo made good from the foul stripe. Charlie Rock tickled the cords with a set shot. Swan tallied on an easy lay up with Dodd tallied with a field and foul. Charlie Rock popped a pair of fouls. Eddie Rock tossed one in heavy ear. He's got a lot of good from the side. Vuolo converted a pair of fouls. Eddie Rock looped in a nice shot from the coffin-corner. Middletown time out. Vuolo scored on a hook shot. Kingston ahead 37-21.

Fourth Quarter.

Dodd opened with one from out near the middle. Charlie Rock added a foul to his total. Ed Rock interrupted a short pass to score easily on a push up. Lou Glenn and Charlie Rock swished rapid set shots. Kingston time out. Charlie Rock tallied and Bob Nelson dribbled the length of the floor to score on a lay up. Dodd tossed in one from the side court. Charlie Rock benefited on a pair of free throws. Middletown time out. Nelson made good on a foul. Charlie Rock satisfied the crowd with two points from the side before the game ended. The score, 50-28.

Preliminary.

The Jayvees handed the Pirates a surprise set-back with a 19-14 score. With the score knotted 9 all at the intermission, the Jayvees forced them to take the lead which they held to the finish. Paul Arkulewicz and George Scherberg set the pace for the visitors with 7 and 6 in order. "Cap" Dehrosky led the forces with 7 markers.

Chitchat About Game Kingston Club Lost

What's the matter with Kingston?

That's what a lot of the fans asked after Wednesday night's lacing of the Cities Service lancers by the New York Jewels. They're tired from exhibition games, opined one patron; they should have played more offensive football, and a third said that when a team mixes shots like the locals, especially fouls, they're just a bunch of hums.

Kingston converted only five fouls out of 13 chances, the score sheet shows. The Jewels made six out of nine, missing only three. An exact record of the fouls missed was not kept, and maybe it's just as well. Although they lost, the Morgenweckers broke one record for the home court. They didn't force a field for two periods, and, furthermore, they failed to score at all in the second period. They flunked on their tries from scrimmage, and Knitzing and Stanton each blew a chance apiece from the complimentary stripe. Kingston finished this frame with a nice big goose egg.

We're in for a win tonight, said Honey Russell in the Jewel dressing room long before the game. Russell, coming from Pittsfield, Mass., Honey is a traveler. He plays almost every night in the week and is in there all the time for the full 45 minutes. He made five points last night. Russell has been playing basketball for 17 years. He started when he was 15. Now he's 32, despite the talk on an easy lay up with Dodd tallied with a field and foul. 40. "This guy Russell must be over continuing with a field and foul. 40. Charlie Rock popped a pair of fouls. Eddie Rock tossed one in heavy ear. He's got a lot of good from the side. Vuolo converted a pair of fouls. Eddie Rock looped in a nice shot from the coffin-corner. Middletown time out. Vuolo scored on a hook shot. Kingston ahead 37-21.

Dodd opened with one from out near the middle. Charlie Rock added a foul to his total. Ed Rock interrupted a short pass to score easily on a push up. Lou Glenn and Charlie Rock swished rapid set shots. Kingston time out. Charlie Rock tallied and Bob Nelson dribbled the length of the floor to score on a lay up. Dodd tossed in one from the side court. Charlie Rock benefited on a pair of free throws. Middletown time out. Nelson made good on a foul. Charlie Rock satisfied the crowd with two points from the side before the game ended. The score, 50-28.

Comfoter Missions
Whip Roamers, 44-42

The regular weekly games at the Comfoter Hall brought victory to both of the church teams; the Aces defeating the Falcons 52-15, and the Missions nosing out the Roamers 44-42.

The Missions played under the handicap of professional rules, a change for them which almost cost them the game. Going into the last quarter with a nine-point lead, the churchmen stood helpless while Bill Kennoch tossed in four fields and a minute to tie the score with a half minute to play. Out of the ensuing wild scramble, Hank Eickmeyer faded through for a push-up basket that won the game for his team. Purvis, DeGraff and Follette did the heavy lifting for the Missions, scoring 26 points in all, while Bill Kennoch ran wild to roll up the huge total of 17 points to keep the Roamers in the running.

Dodgers Get Hassett, Sensational Young Newark First Sacker

By ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

New York, Feb. 21 (AP)—Following up the sale of Sam Leslie to the New York Giants for a reported price of $20,000, the Brooklyn Dodgers today took another step in their reconstruction program by acquiring John (Buddy) Hassett, sensational young first baseman, from the Newark International.

To obtain Hassett, less than three years out of Manhattan College and a "farm" product of the New York Yankees, Brooklyn turned over two players and a "substantial sum in cash" to Newark, according to announcement by John Gorman, Dodger business manager.

The players are Ralph Boyle, outfielder, and John McCarthy, first baseman. The cash was estimated at $5,000.

Leslie's purchase by the Giants does not mean Manager Bill Terry will retire from active duty. Terry is 27 and wants to ease off but he is still the hardest hitting man and best fielding first baseman in the National League. Leslie will share the job and do pinch-hitting duty.

A left-handed slugger, Sam hit 205 last year and drove in 53 runs. He should be useful.

Hassett, although he has yet to experience major league fire, is rated so highly that Manager Casey Stengel has no doubt the ex-collegian will be the regular Brooklyn first sacker.

Hassett, only 24 years old, bats and throws left-handed.

Brooklyn has one or two more deals "on the fire" as part of a sweeping shakeup designed to make the Dodgers a pennant contender.

Stengel said. The Dodgers already have completed three big transactions in "ivory" this winter. Two trades with the Boston Bees brought Ed Brandt and Fred Frankhouse, pitching stars, to the Dodger fold.

To bolster the infield or backstop further Brooklyn is willing to trade a half dozen more players on its roster, including Third Baseman Joe Stripp, a holdout, and several surplus outfielders.
